RAIL WORKERS STRIKE PLANS ARE FORMED

Pennsylvania and Erie Railroads Are Taken From First List; San Diego Road Hit

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(By The Associated Press).—Final arrangements for a general railroad strike intended to tie up the nation's transportation system through a walkout of the two million employees, rapidly were nearing completion tonight with the day's developments bringing two important changes in original plans. Foremost was a decision not to include the Pennsylvania lines and the Erie railroad in the carriers on which the first walkout is scheduled to begin at six a. m. October 30.

California Road Affected

The San Diego and Arizona railroad was added to the first of the four groups into which the unions have divided roads for strike purposes, and it was decided to order three succeeding groups out at forty-eight hour intervals instead of twenty-four. Under this plan, with the men on the roads in group No. 1 walking out October 30, the strike would be in full effect November 5.

The Louisville and Nashville railroad also was dropped from the first group, according to the list given out by union leaders.

These changes were said by union leaders to complete re-assignment of roads to the first group on which walkouts would take place and the following was made known as the official list of carriers in that group:

Kansas City Southern, Missouri Pacific, St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton belt); International and Great Northern, Texas and Pacific, Southern Pacific (Atlantic system), including Houston, east and west; Texas and Houston (Texas Central); Southern Pacific (Pacific system), San Diego and Arizona, Chicago and Northwestern; Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul(except Chicago Terre Haute and Southeastern), Northern Pacific, Chicago Great Western, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, Southern Railway Lines, east and west; Seaboard Air Line, Virginian railroad.

While no official information was forthcoming as to what group the Pennsylvania lines would be assigned, it was understood that they would be placed in group three, on which the walkouts are to start November 3. All walkouts are to begin at 6 a. m., standard time.

Transfer of the Pennsylvania from group one was unexplained by union leaders, but caused considerable surprise, as that road has been considered by the unions as the most antagonistic of any to them and it was believed the first strike would be ordered on it.

By midnight tonight Chicago had been deserted by virtually all leaders of the Big Four brotherhoods and the Switchmen's Union of North America, the organization in which an official strike call actually has been issued, and the hub of the situation was being transferred to Cleveland, where the presidents of these five unions will meet Tuesday to complete grouping of the railroads and settle final details of the proposed walkout.

The union forces gained strength today when T. M. Pierson, vice president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, announced that the 81,000 members of his organization were pledged to strike and that they would make every effort to tie up completely the telephone systems.

"It is our aim to tie up transportation so completely that it will be impossible for a train to move," he said. "If every telegrapher quits work that will mean no train orders can be sent, and train service necessarily will be at a standstill. There is no question but what we will order our membership out October 30, but the final instructions probably will not be issued until October 31."

The shop crafts unions, comprising about 475,000 employes today deferred formal issuance of a strike call pending a meeting here Wednesday, but their leaders have officially announced that their organizations will be called out and that the delay in sending out the call has been caused purely by the time needed to draft the final plans and orders.

At the same time, however, shop crafts leaders have made it known that while they will go out with the they are not pledged to stay out after their own grievances have been adjusted.

"Our organizations will return to work when they are satisfied that they have gained their individual points," a high official said tonight. "The concessions which would satisfy one body of workers might not satisfy another. It is quite certain that we will all be on the same track going out, but there are many sidings and we don't have to come back together."

B. M. Jewell, head o fthe railway employes department, American Federation of Labor, which comprises the shop crafts, said his men never would have been called out independently o na question of wages alone.

"Acting independently, our men never would go out on aquestion of wages alone," he said. "They will fight to the last ditch, however, for their rules and for fair working conditions—matters of principle—but the executive committee of the shop crafts were much opposed to calling a strike on the wage question alone."

Mr. Jewell referred to the recent decision of the shop crafts executives not to call a strike on the wage cut ordered July 1 by the railroad labor board, although the men had voted overwhelmingly to strike rather than accept the cut.

Mr. Jewell indicated that final instructions to his men might be delayed until after the Pennsylvania railroad hearing before the labor board October 20. The road had been summoned before the board so that the board may determine whether the carried had violated the board's order directing a new election of shop crafts representatives to negotiate working rules.

The controversy grew out of separate

STATES ONLY MIRACLE CAN STOP STRIKE

Lee Declares Plans For Walkout Will Be Continued

Says Order Is Final and Postponement Is Not Considered

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—With the announcement today that the big five railroad transportation chiefs will meet here Tuesday to discuss plans to carry on the nation-wide progressive railroad strike set to begin October 30, W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, declared nothing but a miracle could prevent the strike.

Mr. Lee returned to headquarters today from Chicago and began sending out official notices of the strike order to approximately 300 general chairmen of his organization.

"Nothing but a miracle can stop this strike," he said. "Still, there may be a savior some place, but I am afraid not."

Mr. Lee explained that the strike order was final, no provisions being made for postponement. Only a satisfactory settlement before the date for the strike has been provided for.

Mr. Lee said that the strike is in protest against the 12 per cent wage reduction of the railroad labor board, effective last July 1. He explained that when the five railroad organization chiefs met with a committee of five railroad managers in Chicago Friday to consider this wage reduction and were informed by the railroad managers that a further 10 per cent wage reduction would be requested, the brotherhood chiefs gave up hope of an amicable settlement and the strike order resulted.

Grand officers of the Brotherhood of Engineers were arriving tonight for a conference tomorrow with Grand Chief W. S. Stone, at which they will receive final instructions before departing for their districts.

Mr. Stone, W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen; L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railroad Conductors, and T. C. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, are expected tomorrow.

Orders for calling off the strike in case a "satisfactory agreement" has been reached are contained in sealed code messages mailed general chairmen with the strike order, which are not to be opened until receipt of a code telegram. If this code telegram and the sealed code message are identical, the general chairmen will know the strike has been settled.

GEARHART WILL GIVE AID TO SHERIFF JONES

Plans Appointment of Detectives For Use In Oilfields

INVESTIGATION TO BE MADE

Says His Office Will Aid In Suppression of Violence

An attempt will be made today by District Attorney B. W. Gearhart to overcome County Supervisor N. P. Gonser's opposition to the furnishing of four additional deputies to be used in the Coalinga oilfields under the supervision of Sheriff Jones.

Gearhart stated last night that he and his assistants will conduct an investigation today and see that if under the state laws his office cannot give the necessary aid to the sheriff by having additional deputy detectives appointed for his office, the expense to be added to his personal account.

It is believed that if this can be done and he can get the support of three, the majority of the supervisors, the deputy detectives can then be used to cooperate with Sheriff Jones, but under the supervision of the district attorney's office.

According to Gearhart the expense of maintaining the additional deputies in the Coalinga district would be incorporated with the regular expense of his office and would need the approval of but three of the supervisors, thereby defeating the opposition of Gonser to the direct appointment of the deputies under Sheriff Jones.

"If there is anything I can do under the powers conferred on the district attorney by the legislature to help Sheriff Jones to obtain the necessary deputies, they will be furnished under that authority," Gearhart said.

"I have instructed members of my office to ascertain what the points of the law are on that subject as I am unable to conduct a personal investigation, being at present involved in the interests of the state in a murder case.

"That offenses committed, accompanied by violence, shooting at derricks with rifles and stopping automobiles on highways is indicative that an abnormal condition prevails in the oil fields and that the sheriff is deserving of aid to suppress these conditions.

"The sheriff, who has been present in the oil fields during the entire period of the strike is better informed as to what is required than any other official in the county and if the sheriff says he is in need of four additional deputies, I am willing to give him all the aid possible.

"Law and order must be maintained by the constituted county authorities and everything I can do to keep state troops fru mthe strike aren will be done."

LAUNCH SCOUT BUDGET DRIVE IN CITY TODAY

Council Seeks to Raise $6000 For Expenses Of Year

Fresno Luncheon Clubs To Take Part in Campaign

"Your boy needs the help of the Boy Scouts program. The Boy Scouts need your help."

This is one of the slogans adopted by the Fresno council, Boy Scouts of America, in its financial campaign opening today to secure $6,000 needed for operating expenses of the organization for the fiscal year.

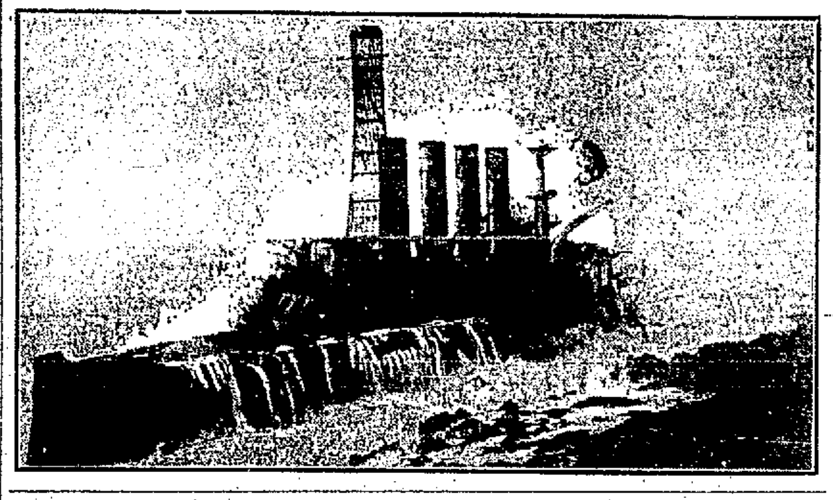

Beginning with the meeting this noon of the Rotary Club of Fresno, luncheon clubs of the city are to inaugurate the campaign with the aim of securing the funds. The clubs which have decided to assist in the budget campaign of the Fresno council, Boy Scouts of America, are the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs.

The need of the council is to be presented to the Rotary club at its meeting today by Emil Gundelfinger, president of the Boy Scout organization and a charter member of the Rotary club. Following his presentation of the need of the Fresno council, it is expected that the club will form a scheme of campaign and organize to raise a part of the fund needed.

The Fresno council, Boy Scouts of America, was organized in 1918 and since that time in three campaigns, one of which was conducted by the latter alone, a little over $11,000 has been raised for the work. Of this amount approximately $800 has been used toward equipping a permanent camp for the council at Bass lake, while the rest has gone for current expenses. According to scout workers this is a small amount for the work which has been accomplished, the troops now numbering nineteen, with over [illegible] enrolled as members, while interest in the organization is said to be on the increase.

"A thing worth doing is worth doing well, and surely there is nothing so vital to this county as the growing boy who is to become its future citizen," said Scout Executive Henry Hopkins in speaking of the financial campaign yesterday. "From being just a boy, the Boy Scouts make him a better boy, who later becomes a better man and a better citizen."

Russia Held Smileless Land

Exhuberance of Bolshevism is Gone

Barter on Street For Food

(The subjoined article, giving a graphic description of the gloomy mental attitude of the hungry people of Russia, was written by a staff correspondent of The Associated Press, who entered Russia with the American relief workers when the famine opened the doors of that country after they had been closed for more than three years.

The writer not only visited Moscow but penetrated to the famine-stricken districts of Samara and Kazan, where the first American food was distributed and whence he sent by cable stirring stories of the scenes he witnessed.)

MOSCOW, Oct. 16.—(By a Staff Correspondent of The Associated Press.)—Russia is a smileless land. In more than 2,000 miles of travel on Central Russian railways and rivers The Associated Press correspondent hasn't heard a single hearty laugh. The exuberance and oratory of the first year of Bolshevism have disappeared.

Speakers no longer tell of the glories of the proletarian rule from the corner curbstones. Red army soldiers no longer jeer at the bourgeoise, for all have settled down together to the difficult task of getting enough to eat; and persons who have not tried existence in present-day Russia have no conception of how difficult it is to satisfy the most primitive human needs there.

Nearly every man and woman met on Moscow or Petrograd streets today is carrying some sort of food parcel or bartering with food dealers on the street corners. There is practically no wood and coal is not dreamed of. Oil is the only fuel. Every family has a primus on which the hot water for tea and the simple meals are prepared.

Under the housing system most persons have only one room in which to cook, eat, sleep and do washing. All the talk one hears on the streets is of food. There are laments everywhere that the bread allowance isn't regular and the frequent expression of fears that the famine in the Volga districts will make the bread supply of Central Russia even worse.

Potatoes at 1,000 rubles a pound are the cheapest food on the market, but 1,000 rubles is a small fortune to most of the population and it takes a lot of oil to cook potatoes.

Tire of Politics.

The days of political strife are apparently over. Russians have tired of theoretical policies. The anti-Bolshevists no longer discuss the government. Paper decrees are showered unnoticed upon Bolshevists and non-Bolshevists alike. They are too busy in their strife for food and clothing to worry about what is going on in the Kremlin.

Streets without food shops are practically deserted in all the cities. The search for food is at once the work and the recreation of the public. Boulevards are lined with food wagons offering fruit, vegetables, bread and eggs, and the people seem far more interested in these than in the listless pedestrians and the little bands which give occasional evening concerts.

There seems to be no spirit of play left in Russia. Even the children are sad and quiet. Recently many toy shops have reopened. The Soviet government never requisitioned Noah's arks and Teddy bears, so dealers in that class of goods are unboxing their old stocks and dressing Santa Claus windows.

Few moving picture theaters are open, and those are given over chiefly to government propaganda pictures. The opera season has not yet opened. Dramas are offered in several less important houses. It was in these theaters and in concert halls that the correspondent saw the only persons who seemed to relax and divorce themselves from the gloomy Moscow atmosphere.

Moscow newspapers and the newsi nall the leading Russian cities are little more than government bulletins. Because of the shortness of paper they are generally only one sheet, and the greater part of the space is given over to long political articles. The newspapers are pasted upon the deadwalls. Crowds gather about them eagerly and scan the few foreign dispatches. The great majority of readers show no interest in the political leaders.

Abolish Markets.

Street crowds in Moscow present a strange and varied appearance. Unless the weather is sunny and warm there are very few pedestrians in the center of the city. Markets which formerly existed near Opera Place have been abolished and there are few food shops in what was formerly the great shopping center. In consequence, most promenaders go to the food-lined boulevards, and the slightest threat of rain drives the crowd s to shelter. Boots and clothing are too precious to be exposed unnecessarily to the weather.

Really well-dressed men and women are never seen on the streets. There is no starch. Threfore, soft collars and shirts are a necessity, and practically all men wear dark gray or brown shirts and collars.

Russia was always great on uniforms. Railway employes and other civil employes of the government wore uniforms under the old regime and still cling to the custom. Shabby uniforms, or parts of uniforms, make up the costumes of nine-tenths of the men in the streets, and the second-hand clothing stalls display practically no clothing but uniforms.

Women have also availed themselves largely of men's uniforms in improvising costumes. Hats, coats, waists, and even shoes of army khaki are seen everywhere among groups of women. Tablecloths, damask curtains, furniture covers of large-flowered cretonne, rich Persian shawls, masquerade costumes and bright-colored evening gows have been adapted to street wear. Fortunately, Russian women have such an independent bearing and are such individualists that they show no embarrassment whatever in wearing any clothing available in this land so sadly in need of cloth.

PERSHING IN ENGLAND FOR CEREMONIES

American General Met By Representatives Of Britain

Coblenz Battalion Is Given Hearty Cheers

LONDON, Oct. 16.—(By The Associated Press)—General Pershing, who comes to take part in the ceremonies attending tomorrow the laying of the Congressional Medal on the tomb of Britain's unknown soldier, arrived from Paris tonight. He was met by a reception committee from the government departments.

The general was greeted by Sir Laming Worthing-Evans, secretary for war, who introduced him to the others, while hundreds of onlookers applauded.

The general entered a limousine accompanied by his aides and as the car passed through the gates and encountered the crowds, hearty cheers were given.

General Pershing went to the American embassy where he will stay, and later was a guest of the ambassador and Mrs. Harvey at a dinner party.

"The Star-Spangled Banner," rendered by the Welsh guards band, and the cheering of thousands of men and women, boys and girls, greeted the composite battalion from Coblenz when the special train rolled into Victoria station two hours after General Pershing arrived. The battalion consists of 460 men!

Apprnaches to the station were jammed with people and the streets were packed. The Americans were cheered everywhre.

At the Duke of York's barracks in Chelsea where the Americans will be guests of the Territorial Army Association of London, the batallion sat down to an English-American dinner of roast mutton, potatoes and hot mince pie in a great hall topped with six large American flags. Forty girls in blue acted as waitresses.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Mrs. J. L. Julius of Los Angeles, widow of the late chief machinist's mate of the ZR-2, killed when the craft was wrecked at Hull, was a passenger on the steamer Carona, which arrived today from Liverpool and Queenstown. She will take her husband's body to California for burial.

MOST-SERIOUS-RAIL STRIKE WAS IN 1894

Eugene V. Debs Was Leader of Walkout and Was Sent to Jail For Collision With Government During Trial

CHICAGO, Oct. 16—(By The Associated Press).—The most serious railroad strike this country has ever experienced broke out in 1894 in Chicago. This was the Pullman strike, which tied up traffic to the Pacific and to Canada.

Eugene V. Debs, now serving a prison sentence at Atlanta for violation of the espionage act, was the directing head of the strike, and was sent to jail for collision with the government during the trouble. Debs came into charge of the strike through being president of the American Railway union.

The trouble arose in the Pullman plant on the southern outskirts of Chicago during a general business depression. The men were asking a wage increase to help them meet the hard times.

A boycott was declared on all Pullman cars. It resulted in tying up all traffic, including the mails, over a wide area and violence broke out in Chicago. The Federal Government ordered troops here. They were met by a mob and could not proceed until reinforcements arrived.

Mobs burned cars by the hundreds, more troops were sent in and President Cleveland issued a proclamation calling for order.

Debs was arrested on a charge of conspiracy against the United States.

Twelve were shot and fatally wounded in Chicago and the vicinity, 575 were arrested by the police, 71 were arrested and indicted under federal statutes.

Loss to the roads in property destroyed and hire of United States deputy marshals was estimated at $690,000.

A threatened strike involving 125,000 switchmen was averted in March, 1910, when a federal board of arbitration granted a three cent and hour increase in wages. Shortly after general increases in pay were granted railroad employes by many of the larger roads after extended hearings.

When Woodrow Wilson first became President, a general railroad strike seemed imminent but it was averted, largely through the passage of the Adamson law.

A threatened strike of railroad shopmen in 1919 resulted in several thousand workers leaving their work. The workers, who asked higher wages, returned to their jobs during August after President Wilson had issued a request that the men remain at work pending adjustment of wage disputes by the goverment which was operating the roads at that time.

Railroad circles have been comparatively free from labor troubles since the unauthorized strike called April 1, 1920, which was ended by order of the Railroad Labor board increasing wages, handed down July 20, 1920.

The unauthorized strike, called by an independent organization of yard employes headed by John Grunau of Chicago, threatened for a time to parlyze the nation's transportation facilities.

Thousands of yard employes left their established unions, joined the new organization and quit work. The big four brotherhoods revoked charters wholesale and sent loyal union men into strike fields to operate trains and break the walkout.

The Grunau organization finally expired when the Railroad Labor board refused to recognize it or order its members reinstated.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOOTS SELF

Riverdale Man Dies of Gunshot Wound

Special to The Republican

RIVERDALE, Oct. 16.—Parker L. Ryan, age 42, for 12 years a resident of Riverdale, accidentally shot and killed himself on his ranch near here this morning. He was an employe of the Riverdale Cooperative Creamery.

Ryan left his house just before 11 o'clock this morning with a 12-gauge shotgun, intending to kill a hawk. A few minutes later his wife heard a gun shot, but failing to see Ryan in the vicinity of the report, sent her young son to look for him. The boy came back a few minutes later and said that his father was shot.

When Mrs. Ryan arrived at the scene she found her husband lying on the bank of an irrigation ditch with a gunshot wound in the back of his head. He was dead.

It is believed that Ryan, who has only one arm, was crossing the ditch and fell with the gun over his shoulder. It is thought that it was discharged by the fall, the shot hitting Ryan in the back of the head.

An inquest was held this afternoon by R. B. Minkel, deputy coroner. The jury returned a verdict of death due to "a gunshot wound in the head. We, the jury, think the death was accidental."

Judge to Search Ocean for Bell

HONOLULU, T. H., Oct. 16.—Search for the bell that once warned mariners of a dangerous shoal off the coast of California, but broke loose from its buoy and, current-swept, blithely caroled its way for 2,00 0miles along the Pacific until it came to rest years ago on the shores of Oahu island, has been started by Judge Sanford B. Dole, former president of the Republic of Hawaii and later first governor of the territory.

The bell, if found, will be placed among the chimes at a Riverside, Cal. inn, where bells from many other parts of the United States have been hung in honor of the padres, who built the first missions in California, Judge Dole said.

After coming to rest on the shores of Oahu, the bell was salvaged and placed on one of the Hawaiian coast buoys, being replaced later by an electrically-operated lighthouse. The bel l disappeared, but Judge Dole hopes to find it and send it to Riverside as Hawaii's contribution.

Puebla Governor Flees With Aides

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16.—(By The Associated Press).—Jose Maria Sanchez, governor of Puebla state, fled from Puebla last night on horseback, accompanied by thirty followers, during a demonstration against state authorities, who were charged with being responsible for the new tax law which is alleged to provide for excessive rates.

Although martial law has not been proclaimed, federal troops under General Maycotte are guarding the city in the absence of the civil authorities and the police.

SAYS JAPANESE DESIRE IS FOR UNIVERSAL PEACE

Newspaper Declares Minimum Strength Desired

HOLD LIMITATION PLAN IS FAVORED

State Reductions Will Be Governed by Decisions

TOKYO, Oct. 16.—(By The Associated Press).—Japan's disarmament policy, formulated during conferences of the cabinet council and submitted for approval to the advisory council, will serve as instructions for the Japanese delegates to the Washington conference, according to Asahi Shimbun today. The main points of this policy, says that newspaper, follow:

"Maintenance of world peace is the ardent desire of Japan, so much so the imperial government approved ahead of the other powers the Washington conference. The delegation shall strive to make clear that the principle of the empire is to maintain the minimum strength necessary for assurin gthe country's defense.

The Japanese policy has not been frame dwith the armament of other countries as an objective, but only with the idea of necessary defense, taking the geographical position of Japan into consideration. The yearly increase in armament expenditure has been due to the fact that international relationship has not allowed the powers to slacken their respective armament preparations—if possible, the sources of international differences shall be rooted out and perfect assurance of national defense established.

Japa nwill willingly agree to limitation o farmament with the other powers.

The delegation shall endeavor to make clear that the government is sincere in its desire to lessen the burdne of national armament expenditure. The strength of the army also is based upon the idea of minimum necessaray defense of the empire. If Japan's relations with neighboring countries are placed o na better basis, Japan will not hesitate to adopt a policy of limitation in principle.

Regarding limitation of the use of airships, poisonous gases and other unusual weapons, the delegation shall consult the delegations of other powers in order to obtain their views.

The government desires an agreement fo rthe withdrawal of offensive armaments from the islands of the Pacific and also for the prohibition of further extension of such armaments. Japan's present armaments in the Pacific Islands do not constitute a threat to other powers, nor ha sJapan any intention of resorting to threatening measures in the future.

Walker to Address Bar Association

Members of the Fresno County Bar association will be addressed at their first regular meeting of the 1921-22 season at the University club tonight by Ben R. Walker, associate editor of The Republican. The subject of his talk will be, "The Disarmament Conference and the League of Nations." The meeting will begin at 7:30.

EXHIBIT BIG SCORPION

VENTURA, Oct. 16.—A scorpion measuring approximately four inches from the tip of the claws to the poison horn at the end of the tail, and said to be one of the largest of the species ever captured, has been presented to the Pioneer museum here by Charles Rea, an employe of an oil company here. Rea captured the scorpion on a lease where he was working.

WOULD REDUCE RAIL RATES TO MEET CUTS IN WAGES

Plan Is Suggested as Feasible Way For Settlement

RAILROAD HEAD RESENTS ACTION

Upholds Labor Board In Condemnation Of Order

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Immediate translation of the reduction authorized last July in wages of railroad employes into reduced freight rates, was suggested by the public group of the railroad labor board tonight as "one feasible plan by which the present controversy can be settled and a strike averted."

"If the railroads will immediately, in good faith, adopt this suggestion," the public group said in the first statement issued since arrival here, "the situation can be cleared, freight rates reduced to shippers, the cost of living reduced and a stimulating effect exerted on all business."

Under the plan suggested by the public group, the railroads would withdraw their request for further wage reductions until freight reductions have been completed, and "pending action of the board on such petition for further reduction as the carriers may subsequently submit," the unions would withdraw the strike order.

The suggestion of the public group was based, the statement said, on one put forward by W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, before a convention in Chicago Friday.

The statement made by Ben W. Hooper, a member of the group, who said it was drafted by the entire membership, follows:

"Up until Friday there was but little, if any, danger of a railroad strike. The railway workers would have brought down on their heads universal condemnation for resisting by force a wage cut so manifestly just and reasonable as that made in July. It may likewise be said that it remains to be seen whether issuance of a strike order merely because a petition for a wage reduction is about to be filed will be sustained by the public.

Respect Decisions.

"The railroad labor board has functioned for more than eighteen months, settling hundreds of controversies, and its decisions, with but few exceptions, have been respected by both sides. There would have been a strike long ago if the two parties had undertaken to settle without intervention or supervision the manifold disputes they inherited from the war period. There is absolutely nothing in existing conditions that justifies the carriers and their employes in inflicting the ruinous results of a strike on themselves and on the public. There is no amount of propaganda that can convince the people that either side is entirely blameless.

"On the first day of July the railroad labor board made effective a decision which reduced the wages of railway employes 12 per cent, aggregating about $400,000,000 per annum, basing the estimate on the normal number of employes.

"Since then by a revision of only a part of the working rules of only one class of employes, the carriers have received further benefits, amounting to many millions of dollars.

"Friday the carriers notified the employes they would ask the labor board for a further wage cut of 10 per cent, assuring the public that the shippers and the people should have the benefit of this wage reduction in the form of reduced freight rates.

Has Feasible Plan

"To this proposition the employes reply that no general reduction of freight rates followed the four hundred million dollar wage reduction of July 1, that the cost of living has not been sufficiently lowered since July 1 to justify another wage reduction, and that they will strike without even awaiting a decision of the labor board as to whether another wage reduction is just and reasonable.

"This is the stage which the controversy has now reached.

"There is at least one feasible plan by which it can be settled and a strike averted. That plan is predicated on an excellent suggestion made by General Atterbury of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in his speech at Chicago last Friday. His suggestion is quoted as follows:

"'Nevertheless, it is a fact that the carriers, though they are not earning what they should earn to entitle them to be called prosperous, nor what the law intends they shall earn, can not rest under such protection while other business struggles for its life.

Tribune Demurrer Sustained by Judge

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Judge Harry Fisher today sustained the demurrer of the Chicago Tribune to the $10,000,000 libel suit brought by the city of Chicago. He declared the city had no cause for action, and denied it the right to amend its petition.

The city brought identical suits against the Tribune and Chicago Daily News, claiming the papers had printed false statements regarding Chicago's financial standing and thereby injured the city's credit.

Judge Fisher declared the portions of English common law and statutes which restricted the liberty of the press had not been inherited by this country. "This action," he said, "is not in harmony with the genius, spirit and objects of our institutions."

The decision was of far-reaching importance to newspapers, as the suit was the first on record in which a municipality sought to restrict the right to criticise its corporate acts.

POLICE WORK REPORTED

MODESTO, Oct. 16—During the month of September the Modesto police force made 71 arrests, according to a report issued by the chief of police here Saturday.

Intoxication heads the list with 28, with 18 for violation of the motor vehicle laws next on the list.

Hearing to Be Held on Franchise

City commissioners will be given the opportunity tonight to acquaint themselves with the indeterminate franchise of the Fresno Traction company which was recently prepared by City Attorney H. M. Johnston. For this purpose a meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the mayor's office in the city hall. Whatever changes are to be made in the charter will be made at this time and it will then be presented to the traction company.

It was announced that the traction company has already prepared a form of franchise conforming with their point of view. The two are to be used as a working basis for preparing an agreement when members of the traction company and city officials meet at a later date, it was stated.

First Installment of Taxes Due Today

The first installment of Fresno county taxes become due today and become delinquent on December 5. Tax Collector Ray Baker has mailed out more than 25,000 tax bills during the past few weeks besides several thousand personal property tax bills for the increased rate on personal property which is unsecured by real estate.

More than $6,000,000 is to be collected by tax this year, it was announced. The tax collector's office will be open in the courthouse from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. every day with the exception of Saturday when it closes at noon.

SERMONS AND CHURCH EVENTS

PASTOR GIVES DISCOURSE ON NEW RELIGION

Will Unitarianism Come To Be New World Religion

Rev. Thomas Clayton of Unitarian Talks on This Subject

"Will Unitarianism Come to be the new world Religion?" was the subject discussed by Rev. Thomas Clayton yesterday morning at the Unitarian church.

"Everywhere is raised the cry, 'Wanted a new religion' and 'Wanted a prophet' to establish it. A prophet to furnish the necessary spiritual impulse to impress a moribund world. Wanted a religion of power, to restore peace, order, and prosperity to our stricken world!

"It would seem fro mthis, that the old time orthodox religion has seen its day. Like many another religion, has served its purpose, and is on its way to the tomb of oblivion, where so many other systems have gone before.

"In the face of the general moral decadence of today, it seems to impotent to stem the tide of destruction and universal misery.

Where Orthodoxy Has Failed.

"It has failed because of over emphasis upon dogma at the expense of life. Its medieval forms are unfitted to expose the spirit of this new age; its terms have become too antequated. Its ancient doctrines are so out of harmony with modern scientific thought, they have became repugnant to educated reason and matured judgment. When one thinks of the science and philosophy now being taught in our higher educational institutions, it seems impossible that orthodoxy can hold the attention of the next generation. Furthermore, it seems to have nothing new to offer for the solution of our modern problems; problems such as never before faced the human family.

The Dynamic Needed.

"Can we suggest the ethical and spiritual influence needed?

"1. An overwhelming sense of superhuman control of life!

"We are running our world as if there were no governor. Every man does that which is right in his own eyes, and says in his heart 'There is no God to call to reward.' Let down in our hearts in our serious moments, we feel with Shakespeare, 'There is a divinity that shapes our ends, rough hew them how we will.' Humanity has become puffed up with the sense of its own greatness, unduly proud of its mastery over natural forces, etc.; like the frog in the fable, man is puffing himself up dangerously near to the exploding point.

A Religion of Humanity.

"Yes, it sounds good to many of us! but we think it will prove a poor article after all. For look what humanity has been doing with itself of late! What a festering mess the world has got into! What poor ideals of life and happiness are current today. Read of them in our periodicals, books and moving pictures. Can we trust the future of humanity to human devices, without the higher impulses that we have heretofore believed, came to them out of the splendid universe outside our own tiny estate? The prospect is not reassuring.

Humanity As One.

"2. We must be conscious that humanity is essentially one. One in life, in origin, and in interests. Americanism is too narrow and unworthy a watchword. It must be the world for humanity. We must come to realize that we all have social obligations as well as privileges and personal rights. Religion recognizing this truth, must greatly widen its field and its efforts until it embraces every human need, interest and aspiration. It must be deeply interested in the public health, in social pageants, in every form of recreation, for the re-creation of life. In the play of both old and young, for the instinct of play is universal and deep-seated.

These Two Facts.

"If these two facts, the super-human control of the universe, with its accompanying 'moral obligations' for us, and the actual one-ness of humanity are fully recognized and accepted, then, a moral obligation binding to the 'rule of conscience' is sure to follow, which means the effectual Salvaging of Civilization."

"Knowledge The Measure of Our Responsibility"

Elder A. C. Barmore was the speaker at the Gospel Tent, Walnut and Topeka streets, last night. His theme was: "Knowledge the Measure of Responsibility." He spoke in part as follows:

"The Bible certainly teaches that intelligence is the measure of responsibility. Today this idea is gaining currency but at one time it was opposed, for it was then considered that the heathen are dying and going to hell by the millions; there are some who hold to that notion now, but it is not as common as formerly. It seems to educated people of today that the most common intelligence should have been able to discover its falsity. It is in opposition to reason as well as scripture. If it be true that now or at any time in the past the heathen are or were in danger of eternal damnation the question naturally arises, Why? What have they done to deserve eternal loss? If it should be said: Because they have not believed in Christ, we very naturally inquire: How could they be expected to believe in Christ when they never heard of Him.

"Sometimes we wonder if this old-time view of the future of man was not invented to enthuse the churches in reference to missionary work; that is, to make them more anxious to contribute of their means for its prosecution, and also to stimulate the zeal of prospective missionaries. The idea existed at the time when the extreme views of hell were generally current, and were being urged as a means of exciting the people in the various revival services, and thus inducing them to profess Christianity and join the church. Now, however, the case is different; people do not have the fear of hell as they once had it, and do not as readily respond to revival excitement as formerly. With this change there has also come a change in regard to the fate of the heathen. They are not now considered in imminent danger of hell.

"The Bible says: 'Sin is the transgression of the law'; but it also says: 'Where there is no law there is no transgression.' Hence the people of Bible lands, by reason of having the law of God, are in danger. Indeed what is called the unpardonable sin is the sin committed against the greatest possible degree of knowledge concerning the things of God."

Active Volcano Seen By Press Congress

HILO, Island of Hawaii, T. H., Oct. 16.—Kilauea volcano, 30 miles from this city, displayed a fine show of pyrotechnics for delegates to the Press Congress of the World who visited the crater today. Blowholes were active with liquid fire and fountains of molten lava sprayed upward from the glowing lakes of the volcano, 120 feet below the rim of the crater.

The delegates to the press congress were entertained at dinner last night at the Hilo Yacht club. They will leave at midnight for the island of Maui, where they will visit the enormous extinct crater of Haleakala, the biggest dead crater in the world and other sights.

M. E. PASTOR RESUMES PULPIT

Dr. Stevens Speaks on Struggle for Life

Dr. F. G. H. Stevens has returned from conference and has resumed his pulpit, having been assigned to this church for another year. He spoke last evening from the subject "The Old Struggle for Life." He said in part:

Text: "I am come that they might have life and have it more abundantly."

"I stood beside his cot in the county hospital, by the side of that young prize fighter of magnificent form. The hammering of a few months before in the prize fight ring had brought on pneumonia and later the white plague.

"Having come to know each other, he had sent for me. While there one of the self-appointed visitors came and left a flower. She spoke in a kindly way asking him about his knowledge of God.

"In view of the fact that he had sent for me, his answer seemed rough, for he replied, 'Woman, don't you see that I am fighting for breath, I haven't time to thing about God.'

"Yet is not his attitude the same as that of many others? A lot of us are so busy fighting for breath, or a chance to breathe, or fighting for place, or for money to live, that we have little time to think about life itself, or to get acquainted with the Life Giver Himself.

"The most of us want life, and we want it abounding.

"But you say to me, 'Can you prove that the Christian way of living is fuller of life than the other way?'

"We have three answers.

"First, God says so. He ought to know for He planned both us and life.

"Second, we folks who have tried to it say so. And probably many of us fail to prove it by the lives we live. Forgive us.

"Third, try it yourself and see. There is little to lose and a chance to gain much.

"Why is it that when we talk about life of this kind that folks always think that we mean eternal life? And the most of young folks are not interested in eternal life. Heaven may be nice, but it seems a long way off to young folks and most young folks would have a hard time to make a choice between a college football game and heaven. Or would they have a hard time choosing?

"Yet for those who are older there is an appeal here. A lot of the glamor has gone from the tinsel of the make believe. It means much to a man to have a chance to be an immortal in a right way. That is the sure method. 'Because I live, ye shall live also.'

"But the Christian has a longer life, physically. From the mere life insurance they are better risks. They have more to live for and they live cleaner and longer.

"Prove it in a large way by comparing the Christian nations and those which are not Christian. Even here the comparison is not altogether fair, for many folks in a Christian nation are not playing a Christian game.

"But while he lives he lives more fully. One of the best arguments for a higher education is not alone to make more money. One of the best arguments for a higher ducation is not alone to make more money. But the finest result is that an educated man makes better company for himself.

"So President Garfield said to himself once when he was young and a temptation came to him to do a contemptible thing, 'I can't afford to do that because I have to live with Jim Garfield all the rest of my life.'

"A Christian makes better company for himself, and ought to make better company for others, if he plays up to his opportunities.

"He grows because he tries to get others to seek the same life. He is a traveling salesman doing kingdom business.

"Yet after all, this is but as we folks say who have tried it ourselves.

"The best thing is for the rest of you to prove it by trying it for yourselves."

WEAK MOMENTS SERMON TOPIC

Dr. H. H. Bell Preaches At Presbyterian

At the First Presbyterian yesterday morning Dr. H. H. Bell spoke from the topic, "Your Weak Moments." He said in part:

The Fact of Weak Moments.

"Weak moments are a fact in the life of each one of us. Today we may be strong, and courageous, and bold. Tomorrow we may show a weakness as tragic as that of Peter. Today we may have poise and be commended for it. Tomorrow it may all be gone, and we fall at the least suggestion of the evil one.

"Are weak moments a fact in your life? How about that fit of ill-temper? How about those unkind words you speak in the home, in the office, in the shop, in business, in the school, on the playground? You think you are strong and can stand, yet you know you are not. Who here this morning does not have weak moments in life—moments when Satan becomes victor—moments when all whom we contact with see our weakness and shudder at it? Who will deny the fact of weak moments? They come to all, to the youth, to the adult, to the aged alike. They come to the overtaxed mother, to the overworked business man, to the undergirded young man and young woman. Weak moments come when we least expect them.

The Danger of Weak Moments.

"Weak moments are dangerous! Weak moments are full of tragedy. A chain is not stronger than its elections, which the board declared void. It ordered new elections, but they were not held.

The shop crafts consider this case as a fight against their right to negotiate with employers over working conditions and tehir leaders expressed the opinion they would prefer to strike on this question as well as that of wakes, Mr. Jewell said.

Despite insistence of union officials that the strike would paralyze the transportation system, railroad officials steadfastly maintained they would operate their lines. A majority, instatements, seemed inclined to believe that strike would not actually be put into effect.

Several took the attitude that a strike would be a strike against the government and not against the railroads. William Finley, president of the Chicago and Northwestern, said:

"The railroad men, if they strike, will be going against the law and the orders of the railroad labor board, created by act of Congress.

"We have no controversy with our men. We are merely obeying mandates of the labor board, which after proper hearings and due process of law, ordered wages decreased. The men now refuse to obey orders of the Government, as issued by the labor board."

TURKS WEARY OF WARFARE

Kemal Pasha Followers Ragmuffins

WITH THE GREEK ARMY AT ANATOLIA, Oct. 16.—(The Associated Press.)—If Mustapha Kemal's army may be judged by the thousands of prisoners which have passed through the Greek lines, it is now little more than a loose organization of peasants, mountaineers and herdsmen recruited by force from the countryside.

The Associated Press correspondent saw 1,000 of these captives at Greek army headquarters recently. They resembled nothing so much as a band of ragmuffins.

All were in torn, threadbare garments and most of them had no shoes. Less than 25 per cent had uniforms. A few of them were dressed in ragged underclothing and some were clad only in burlap bags. Only the officers were well attired, but no two of their uniforms were alike. Scores of the prisoners were wearing the uniforms and shoes of dead Greek soldiers, whom they had stripped.

Conversation with the soldiers disclosed that the rank and file of Kemal's army were pretty weary of the war and were ready to give themselves up, but desertions were punished with death, they said. The officers interviewed however, gave no such impression. They declared Kemal and his followers would fight to the bitter end.

While the Turkish soldiers have had to live under wretched conditions and have been obliged to subsist only on such meager rations as could be found along the countryside, their Greek adversaries pay frank tribute to their bravery and fighting qualities. They have stood well every form of attack, from rifle and artillery fire to bayonet and grenade assault.

Although reputed to be outnumbered two to one by the Greeks, they have clung to their position with fierce tenacity. The Greeks say their doggedness is due largely to their intense religious fanaticism. Their officers, the Greeks assert, have imbued the men with the idea that the Christians intend to take the whole of Turkey and subjugate all Moslems, and that their incursions must be resisted to the death.

To Attend American Legion Meet

Leading officers in the American Legion who will play important part at convention. Left to right, above, are: Robert H. Tyndall, national treasurer; E. J. Winslett, national commander; Thomas Goldingay, national vice commander, and Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant. Below are: Eben Putnam, national historian; Robert A. Adams, national judge advocate; John G. Emery, national commander, and Thomas J. Bannigan, national vice commander.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 16.—(Special)—The men who won fame for America in the World War and the heroes of other nations are going to meet one another at the annual convention of the American Legion, which opens here October 31. Among the U. S. heroes will be the twenty-eight wearers of the congressional medal of honor. From Europe are coming General Foch of France, General Diaz of Italy, General Jacques, Belgian hero; Admiral Beatty of Great Britain; and other notables. It is expected that delegates and visitors to the convention will number from 75,000 to 100,000 persons.

Belgian General Popular

Of popular interest and appeal is the coming of Marshal Foch, the generalissimo of the Allied forces in the war, to mingle with the men who did their part in helping him to make history. Idolized no less by the soldiers in the ranks than by the commonwealths of the world that have celebrated his genius and consecrated service, the great leader of men has a sincere way of requiring the fine things of comradeship.

Officials notice that Lieut. Gen. Baron Jacques of Belgium will attend the convention as the official representative of that country has been received by M. George Mignolet, Belgian consul here from E. Gaspar, Belgian minister of foreign affairs. General Jacques is one of the most popular officers in the Belgian army. He first gained recognition in campaigns in the Belgian Congo. When general mobilization ordered in the defense of Belgium at the beginning of the German invasion, he organized the defense of Vise and played a hero's role in the battles of Liege and Antwerp. He was wounded twice at Dixmuide. Since the war he has been decorated by all the allied nations.

Admiral Beatty will be the honor guest from England. Sir David Beatty is the commander-in-chief of the entire grand fleet of the "mistress of the seas" and is known as the "infant prodigy" of England's naval forces.

Diaz Saved Italy

General Armando Diaz, commander-in-chief of the Italian armies, has been authorized by King Victor Emmanuel to accept the invitation of the American Legion to participate in the convention as honor guest from Italy. Italy's famous commander, the man who retrieved his country's military fortunes after the costly and amazing disaster of Caporetto in which the Austro-Germans captured more than 200,000 Italian soldiers and 700 guns, was the Phil Sheridan of the great war.

General John J. Pershing, Major General Enoch H. Crowder and Rear Admiral R. E. Coontz, all natives of Missouri will have a home-coming celebration in connection with their visit to the convention. Legion posts from LaClede, Edinburgh and Hannibal, the respective homes of the great millitary leaders will hold special ceremonies of welcome for them.

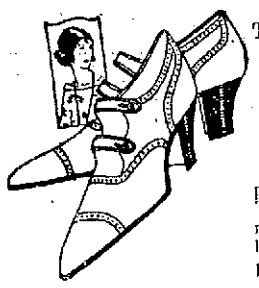

Britisher Claims U. S. Best Country

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The Rev. Reginald J. Campbell, who has just resumed his London ministry after his visit to the United States, told his parishioners in his first sermon at Christ church that America was "now the greatest nation in this world, stronger than ours, richer than ours, able to do materially what it likes, and to give spiritual leadership to mankind if it chooses."

Dr. Campbell said he had found traces of anti-British feeling, but that he was also made aware of "a warm and widespread friendliness, of which too little is heard on this side."

weakest link. A bar of iron or of steel has a point of FRANGIBILITY beyond which it cannot bear a feather's weight of additional pressure. Look at that great beam, load it just so much, then it gives way. Look at those massive propeller shafts which drive the stupendous ocean liner. But here comes the test of a billowy sea, and they snap asunder. So there is a point of pressure at which the strongest human natures give way. They do not have to but they often do. For the moment they ship the oars and drift with the popular tide, until their passions sweep them over the rapids.

"More lives break at the point of weak moments than we realize. Thus they break in the home. Thus they break in business. Thus they break in the professions; thus they break in the counting-room; thus they break in the presence of the banks' cash trays, and embezzlement follows; thus they break on the athletic field when everything depends on them; thus they break in the whirl of pleasure, and all is lost. Thus they break in certain contacts of society when Satan comes off full victor! O, the danger of weak moments."

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 16.—Hereafter Walter Powell, director of athletics at Stanford, and Coaches Van Gent and Fitzgerald of the Cardinal football squad, will be known as "Professors" Powell, Van Gent and Fitzgerald. Powell's idea is that when players realize cheers come from the grandstand well versed in football technique, they will be encouraged far more than if the cheers are from people who have missed all the fine points.

STANFORD WILL REVIVE CREW RACES IN 1923

(Special Correspondence.)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 16.—Stanford will make no effort to put a crew on the water this year, but in 1923 the annual Stanford-California regatta will probably be resumed, according to the decision reached at a meeting of crew enthusiasts. Last year, for financial and other reasons, it was decided reluctantly to abandon the sport temporarily.

When crew is taken up again by the Cardinals next year, it will be on a large scale. Present plans call for the construction of new boathouse and the purchase of several new shells. As Palo Alto is several miles from water, a motor truck will be bought to carry the oarsmen back and forth every afternoon. A closer and better place to train on San Francisco bay will probably be obtained.

It will take about $20,000 to set crew on its feet again as a major sport, but this sum will be made available on account of the increased revenue brought in by the new stadium.

WHY IS A SERMON?

Various churches and various clergymen have various attitudes toward church publicity. Reluctance to publicity is ascribed variously to modesty, to principle, to expense, to indifference. Eagerness to advertise is ascribed to business appreciation of its advantages, to eagerness to be in the limelight, to "results" and to obedience to the Scriptural injunction "Let your light so shine" etc.

In the long run, it should be remembered, there is little distinction in principle, though there may be some in convenience, between paid advertising or publicity that is obtained freely or incidentally. The fact of advertising is the same, though purposes may vary and methods may widely differ. The church official who welcomes or seeks publicity and refuses to pay for advertising may be employing purely business principles, but if he thinks that there is a moral distinction he has not given the thought to the subject that it requires. Just as reliance on a paid choir may be a poor substitute for enthusiastic congregational singing, so reliance upon paid advertising may be a poor substitute for energetic development of opportunities to place one's church before the community in which it operates. But the inherent question of "paying" for either a choir or of paying for advertising is one of proper adjustment of church and community burdens.

If churches are worth anything, their merits should be made public in one way or another. They are advertised by the character of their members, as well as the character of the clergymen and other officers; advertising by the denominational distinction that separates them from other religious institutions; advertised by the degree of affiliation with or separation from the general body of citizenship; advertised by the facility with which the wordly means of the communicants is diverted to church purposes; advertised by the general church activity. But above all, a church is distinguished by the character of the sermons that are preached from its pulpit. All the great religions of the earth, as well as Christianity, have been given their opportunity for human value through their preaching. The church's message has been a gospel, a glad tidings.

While the quality of preaching in a church is best advertised by those that hear it, yet it also receives an independent advertising in other ways. The extent to which this advertising is done through newspapers is an important consideration for the clergyman and for the church management.

It is chiefly to be had through the sermon title. The title to the sermon is the "sample" displayed for passersby to see. It may be strictly a title, a descriptive or definite one. Or it may be a text, a suggestion, a line that shows the inspiration of the sermon.

It will be interesting to give here a list of the titles of sermons as given in the "Church Notices" in yesterday morning's Republican. They are:

"The Golden Age—When?"
"Our Far Flung Line, an illustrated lecture showing the educational work of the church throughout the world."
"The Life-Sized Portrait of the Christian."
"The False Baptism and Tongue Twaddle of Mrs. MacPherson as compared with the Scriptural."
"Christian Cooperation."
"Knowledge the Measure of Responsibility."
"The Enchanted Isles."
"Unitarianism Examined; Will Unitarianism Prove to be the New World Religion."
"Healing in the Atonement."
"Organization."
"Christian Worship."
"Love."
"The Mission of Christ to Earth."
"Man's Abiding Place."
"Stewardship."
"If I Were a Millionaire."
"Your Weak Moments."
"Walking with God."
"The Greatness of Love."
"Victory Through Faith."
"Rightly Dividing the Word of Truth, the Great Fundamental Division of the Bible."
"Responsibility for Our Talents."
"Two Paths."
"The Divine Challenge to the World."
"Demonstrations."
"The Man of Vision."
"The Rock of Christianity."
"Doctrine of Atonement."

There were thirty-three announcements in the "Church Services" column of The Republican. Of these, eighteen contained titles to addresses. That is, of the churches in Fresno that cared to make announcements on Sunday morning, only 54 per cent or slightly more than one-half chose to announce the titles to addresses to be made by the pastor or other speakers.

Of course in a few cases, the church had other activity than a sermon, and so announced. But this was a very small proportion.

In the list of subjects given above, representing eighteen religious societies, there are twenty-eight subjects. This means that of the churches in Fresno, thirty-three announced their church services in this newspaper; of the thirty-three, eighteen announce subjects of sermons; and of these eighteen, one announces three subjects for consideration, eight announce two subjects, and nine announce but one subject each, though virtually all churches have at least two and sometimes three meetings during the Sunday.

Does this represent a full seizure of opportunity?

The test is of course not a perfect one. There may be churches which do not care to give announcements through newspapers. There are occasions in church when there may be no sermon. There are occasions when the sermon is of value although it can not be given a title. And there are times when the title of the sermon, good as it is, is not a striking one.

But in the long run, nothing is worth doing unless is is expressible in a forceful thought. There is an impulse in the building of a house, in the planting of a farm, in the running of a business. There is a theme in the laying out of a day, if that day is to be profitable. We can apply this to church worship, just as to other human undertakings. Church life should not be the same thing over and over again. It should have some new stimulus, week by week. The "love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost" need not be and should not be the mechanical turning of a prayer wheel. They should respond to the rhythm of the human mind, which is the gateway to the divinity in our souls.

"Let your light so shine that men, seeing your good works, may glorify your Father, which is in Heaven."

THE BOY SCOUTS

Today or some day later this week the Fresno Council, Boy Scouts of America, will ask you to give in accordance with your means to the work of this Fresno organization.

You should give this with a very liberal understanding of what "within your means" does mean.

The Boy Scouts is the organization that represents the determination of this community to do everything it can to develop the mental, moral and physical instincts of the boy of Fresno, in a clean way toward citizenship, without reference to race, religion or social relationship, but solely with the idea of developing the citizens of the coming generation in the best way out of the boys of this.

The Boy Scouts is not concerned with the many characteristics that go to make men individual. It is interested with those things that go to make them better in their contacts with one another. It develops boys through watchful but unbiased guidance in outdoor life. It develops their minds in reference to their bodily needs. It urges the use of the senses as the best way to leave behind sensual things and the attainment of a healthy, cleanly citizenship.

You are deeply interested in the prosecution of this sort of work among the boys of Fresno. Your sons and daughters will have these boys as neighbors for many years. They should be the best kind of neighbors. Giving to this Boy Scouts' fund this week will be your insurance premium payment on a public charter policy that will run for a long time.

Don't overlook this opportunity to invest in the future.

"LEST WE FORGET"

One of the most valuable things that The Republican can do with this space is to use it to reprint an editorial from the current number of the Associated Grower, the organ of the California Associated Raisin company and of the California Peach and Fig Growers. It says:

It has been said that if a man wants a thing bad enough he will work till he gets it.

Are the associations going to have to put a premium on first-class fruit so big that the man who is delivering inferior stuff will get an overpowering desire to excel? When one watches some of the deliveries at the packing houses he is inclined to think so.

"Good!" says the slipshod farmer, trusting to luck or good resolutions soon forgotten. To his remark, as first thought, some of the most careful growers might say "Amen!"

But a little of the simplest thinking takes the joy out of the vision.

If the public will not pay more for the fruit, there will not be much more premium money now, even for the producer of the best quality. At present, the finest grade brings the grower only a few dollars more than the common grade. It is only the fruit of very little value that is severely penalized.

If the producer of the fancy fruit is to get his just dues the man with the slipshop methods and the inferior fruit may soon have to stand a cut in his returns. It would be foolish indeed to let quality deteriorate until the consumer applies the pressure. The Association executives cannot permit a lowering of quality.

The outcome is really up to the individual producer. As we sow, so shall we reap. As we produce, so shall we be paid. At least that is a good general rule in life, and it pays no one to forget it.

Unquestionably, while the fruit associations have been doing much to consider the particular needs and fancies of consumers, they are going to do much more.

And one of the things that they will have to fight for to the utmost will be a raising of the standards of goods to the limit of commercial possibility.

We have pooled all the possible advantages of producing activity. It will not be fair, in the long run, to pool quality.

Whatever the grower can do in the way of enhancing the quality of his goods, must be given to him as a reward, as an incentive to produce better goods. This is only fair to the producer. It is only fair to the consumer. And it is absolutely essential to the management of these associations as marketing concerns.

My wants are simple as can be.

To gratify their selfish aims.
I ask for nothing but my rights,
From hour to hour, from day to day.
And I am always quite content,
If I can only have my way.

Two Mouthfuls o'Nothing

A Fresno Baseball Park

This bunch of folks
In Sunshineville
Who have been planning
And working
And holding meetings
And holding more meetings
To try to get up
Some baseball enthusiasm
In this neck of the woods
Must have a feeling
These last few days
That a bran new argument
Has been put
Into the mouths of them
And a more shining weapon
Placed in their hands.
Up on the corner
Of Tulare and Van Ness
Has been a big board
And an A. P. operator
With his tic-talk machine
And a big bunch of lads
To help work the board
And news came straight
From the Polo Grounds
Where the Giants
And the Yankees
Were battling for supremacy
And a whole army
Of Fresno folks
Have gathered there
Every day at noon
To see the wee ball
Move from pitcher
Down to catcher
Or from the batter
To center field
Or from second base
Over to first.
And when it moved
They'd give a shout
Or a moan,
And try to figure out
How the game was going.

There was baseball interest
In that crowd
And that is what
Al Joy and Roy Payne
And Charlie Cearley
And Frank Homan
And a lot of others
Have been telling us
For a long time.
But we couldn't see it.
Here's just hoping
That before another year
We'll have a baseball park
Of our very own
In our own town
Where we can see games
And cuss the umpire
And drink sody pop.
Where in early spring
Big clubs from back east
Will be glad to practice
So we can get an eyeful
Of Mister Babe Ruth,
Or Shufflin' Phil Douglas,
Or Pitch-em-good Hoyt,
Or Roger Hornsby,
Or George Sisler,
Or Tyrus Cobb.
Where we can edge in...
On the Coast League
And get one of those clubs
So that oftentimes
We'll have the fun
Of seeing our club
Knock the stuffing
Out of San Francisco
Or Los Angeles,
Or Seattle.
Let's get us a ball park
In some handy-like spot
And use it for fun
And for advertising
And for fame,
For we know now
That we all like baseball.

Uncommon Sense

Many Kinds of Snobbishness

All Snobs don't live in big houses and ride around in yachts. Some of them don't know where their next meal is coming from—yet they are snobs nevertheless.

A snob is a person who, for some reason best known to himself, thinks he is better than other people.

Necessarily he has to admit a few others to his society. Man, even when he is a snob, has to have company.

But there are snobs who are coal miners, and snobs who are bad carriers, and hundreds of thousands of snobs who are hotel clerks and butlers and head waiters.

The little colored boy who gets an old red vest to wear becomes instantly a snob, and is intolerant and haughty in his manner toward all the little colored boys of his acquaintance.

In a little Western town, three boys who had been to Chicago became hopeless snobs and looked down with pitying contempt on all the other boys in town because none of them had ever been more than fifty miles from their village.

But presently another boy went with his parents to California, and thereafter he came the chief snob of the place.

There is really no reason at all for snobbishness, neither the ordinary kind which comes with wealth, nor the particularly stupid sort called intellectual snobbishness.

The educated man ought to know better than to be a snob. But he very frequently doesn't.

He despises the man who pronounces a French word in the American fashion. A person who doesn't know what a logarithm is excites his derision. He laughs himself ill because a neighbor thinks the inventor of the wireless telegraph was named Macaroni.

The snob gets very little out of life compared to what he ought to get. He misses the wisdom tha tresides in hundreds of his betters who do not happen to have lived the same life or to have done the same things that he has done.

The city man is a snob at home too often, and when he gets to the country he discovers that it is the countryman who is a snob, and he is regarded as the inferior.

It will pay you to take stock of yourself and discover just why you think you are better than other people before you put on airs. If this cures you, so much the better for you.

Taken from the Files of the FRESNO REPUBLICAN

Editors Note: It is just forty years ago that The Fresno Weekly Republican published the first directory published in the city of Fresno. It was called "The Fresno County Directory" and covered as completely as possible the county as then constituted, including what is now Fresno county, Madera county and portions of Kings and San Benito counties. But few copies of this directory are now known to be in existence. The Republican will be glad to learn from any persons possessing copies of that directory, for reference by the Fresno County Historical Society.

HAWAII: PARADISE AND GIBRALTAR OF THE PACIFIC

Bulletin, National Geographic Society

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"Hawaii, Territory of the United States, and most important strategically of the lands of the Pacific, is not alone interesting because of its military and naval value to Uncle Sam," says a bulletin from Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"It is in many ways literally an island paradise. Scarcely anywhere else in the world may one roam through tropical jungles with never a thought of poisonous insects or snakes. Such creatures do not exist in these fair islands. Even poison ivy and similar plants are unknown. And though in the edge of the tropics, Hawaii has a milder temperature by ten degrees than any other land in the same latitudes. Moreover, one may change his climate at will by a journey of a few miles; for the northeastern half of each island, swept by the trade winds, is rainy and heavily wooded, while just over the mountain ridge is a drier, warmer region.

Islands Pretexts of Boston

"In a way, the United States may well thank Boston and its daring traders and missionaries of the early days for the fact that Hawaii now flies the Stars and Stripes rather than the Tricolor or the British Union Jack. A Spanish navigator first discovered the islands in 1555 but his country laid no claim to them and they were practically forgotten. The British Captain Cook visited the Hawaiian group in 1778 and named them the Sandwich Islands. Still the islands were practically unknown. Then, following the close of the American Revolution, American ships began to sail the seven seas in growing numbers, and in 1789 the first ship flying the Stars and Stripes—from Boston—visited the Hawaiians. It was the first of many from the same port, carrying traders, whalers and adventurers; and soon the natives had learned of the republic on the continent to the east, and came to consider 'United States' and 'Boston' synonymous.

"The Boston traders found each of the islands under separate king, with two rival rulers on Hawaii, the largest of the islands. One of the latter obtained fire-arms and ammunition from the traders and got their assistance in building a 'navy.' With this American help he became 'the Napoleon of the Pacific,' conquered the other islands, and as Kamehameha I ruled over the consolidated kingdom.

When Honolulu Was Gayer Than "Barbary Coast"

"The Americans found the Hawaiian trade a good thing. They sold the king and his nobles every thing from clothes and jewelry to billiard tables and steam yachts and in return carried away shiploads of valuable sandalwood. Strong liquor was not forgotten among the imports, and in Honolulu among the naturally light-hearted natives the American sailors contributed to the creation of a gay Pacific resort, a sort of forerunner of San Francisco's Barbary Coast of later decades. Deserters from American ships, in the delightful haven of a barbarous paradise, helped to heighten the fame or the infamy of the Honolulu of those days. The situation became such that in 1820 President Monroe sent an agent to reside in Honolulu and look after American interests in regard to commerce and seamen.

"A shipload of missionaries, also from Boston, arrived in the islands in 1820 much to the disgust of the traders as well as those who had deserted the sea to tread Hawaii's primrose path. The complaint of the traders was that the missionaries taught the natives 'the value of things' and so made trading unprofitable. American ways and teachings at their best made a great impression on the more thoughtful Hawaiians and when they reshaped their government they made the Ten Commandments the basis of their laws.

Once Seized by British

"More and more Americans visited and settled in the islands and the Hawaiians looked upon America as their best friend among the nations. When pioneers from the United States were pushing west toward California just before the Mexican War which added that state to the Union, a British naval commander in the Pacific, realizing the strategic importance of the Hawaiian group, seized the islands, but his country promptly disavowed his act. After some difficulties with France over the islands in the forties, the United States declared a sort of Monroe Doctrine toward them. As early as 1851 the island government, fearing trouble with other nations, provisionally ceded the islands to the United States. But the cession was not accepted and numerous efforts to become a part of the United States were made in the following half of the century.

"In 1887 the United States obtained a concession for the use of Pearl Harbor for a coaling station. When Queen Liliuokalani attempted to abolish the constitution in 1893, the constitutional party, led by American settlers, brought about a revolution and dethroned her. One of the first acts of the provisional government was to apply for annexation to the United States. Germany was seizing islands right and left in the Pacific, and the Hawaiians wished to get under a sheltering wing. Politics in the United States delayed action and in the meantime the Republic of Hawaii was organized. Then in 1898, during the Spanish-American War, Congress suddenly voted to make Hawaii American territory.

60 Per Cent of Population Asiatics

"Though the Hawaiian Islands are known as 'the half-way house of the Pacific,' in reality the distance from San Francisco to Honolulu is only about half that from Honolulu to Australia, the Philippines or Japan. All the islands are of volcanic origin, but coral has grown on the shores of many of them. The disintegrated lava has formed a rich soil which responds liberally to irrigation. Only Cuba and Java produce greater total crops of sugar, and the per acre yield of Hawaii is the greatest in the world—four tons without irrigation and six tons with. The sugar crop for the year ended June 30, 1920, was worth $78,500,000. The pineapple crop, second in importance, was valued at $18,500,000.

"One of the most interesting features in regard to Hawaii is the racial makeup of its population. The country had an all-Hawaiian population believed to number several hundred thousands when it first became well known to Americans. The disease of civilization, including measles, killed off a large part of them in the years following and in 1920 there were only 22,000 full blooded Hawaiians in the island and about 16,000 of mixed blood. The two groups constitute less than 15 per cent of the 255,912 people living in the islands in 1920. The Americans and northern Europeans made up about 10 per cent, the Portuguese approximately nine and one half and the Porto Ricans and Spaniards about two and a half. The total Caucasian population was three little more than 30 per cent or only about one-fifth of the entire population. The Japanese population was 43 per cent and the Japanese, Chinese and Filipino population together, over 60 per cent."

BEANS ARE VULGAR.

From Charles Dudley Warner.

Why do we respect some vegetables and despise others, when all of them come to an equal honor or ignominy on the table? The bean is a graceful, confiding, graceful vine; but you can never put beans into poetry nor into the highest sort of prose. There is no dignity in the bean. Corn—which in my garden grows alongside the bean, and, so far as I can see, with no affectation of superiority,—is, however, the child of song. It waves in all literature. But mix it with beans and its high tone is gone. Succotash is vulgar. It is the bean in it. The bean is a vulgar vegetable, without culture, or any flavor of high society among vegetables.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

Song of King Constantine

I'm a wily and far sighted monarch
With an eye on the sweet bye and bye;
Some hone-headed rulers may languish in coolers
When thrown from their thrones; but not I!
Though other great sovereigns go hungry
I'll never be scantily fed;
My purse won't grow lanky while still there's a Yankee
My royal relations can wed.

I have seen many scepters grow shaky
And palaces totter and fall;
I have read in the headlines, "Ex-Kings in the Breadlines!"
And never have worried at all.
No matter how lavish my living,
No matter how much I may draw
For balls and cotillions, I spend the millions
Of my Pittsburger daughter-in-law.

But still with an eye on the future,
Lest her son with the dollars goes through,
That somehow or other he'll get from his mother,
Why he's in the family too.
And so, though my subjects depose me
And drive me unkindly away,
I'll have no employment except the enjoyment
Of an income from Pittsburg P. A.

I'm a wily and far sighted monarch,
As I think that I recently said,
Some Kings of tomorrow may well need to borrow
Their houses and clothing and bread.
But the troubles of bankrupted sovereigns
Will matter as nothing to me,
I'll not lack for rations when half my relations
Own mills in the land of the free.

FRESNO HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

SECONDS WIN FROM LEMOORE

Fresno Makes Big End Run Gains

Fresno high's second team defeated Riverdale High 43-6 Thursday afternoon, October 13. The game was played at Riverdale on the high school field. Fresno made most of her gains on end-runs. Riverdale opened up in the last quarter with line plunges and forward passes, which netted her a touchdown, which she failed to convert.

Fresno started out from the first whistle and scored in the first five minutes of play, Wickersham carrying the ball over. By the end of the first half, the score was 34 to 0. Porter, Watkins, and Kapigian carried the ball over. Kapigian took the ball through the center of the line and went through Riverdale's backfield fifty yards for his touchdown. Bert Greene failed to convert after any of the touchdowns.

In the second half, Fresno made three more touchdowns. Bob Johnson converted one goal after touchdown. This was the only conversion made during the whole game.

Big Feed Had.

After the game was over, the eats were brought on. Coffee, sandwiches, potato salad, beans, cakes and ice cream in plenty were the guests of honor, and they disappeared rapidly. After the eats came short speeches by the two coaches, the two captains, the two student body presidents, the Riverdale principal, Mr. Hepner, Fresno's vice principal and Mr. Gorce, who is a stanch supporter of Fresno high. Neville Wright, who refereed, also spoke.

The boys who were taken to Riverdale by Coach Newman are anxious to go back.

Fresno 2nd vs. Lemoore.

Next Thursday, October 21, the second team goes to Lemoore. Prospects are bright for a victory, as Coach Newman has developed a good strong line and a fast backfield.

FRESNO WINS FROM HANFORD

Locals In Difficulty With Passes

Fresno high school football team defeated Hanford high school, 10 to 0, Friday afternoon, October 14. Last year Hanford held Fresno to a 0 to 0 tie, and year before last Fresno won, 106 to 0. Fresno made most of her gains on end runs, while Hanford opened up in the last quarter with forward passes which netted several long gains. Hanford also made good with the backs in the last half. Fresno did not seem able to complete her forward passes, but was good on line plunges.

Hanford kicked off and "Al" Serpa ran the ball back about fifteen yards. Tom Wright then took the ball around end for a big gain. Then Captain Niswander tore off the same distance around end. The ball was now near Hanford's twenty-yard line. It was snapped back, and Pete Petersen kicked goal twenty-five yards from placement, and the first score was made.

Then Fresno kicked off to Hanford, and the rest of the quarter was devoted to straight football, Fresno pushing Hanford back.

Tommy Wright was called upon, and he went around end for Fresno's first touchdown. Petersen converted.

After goals were changed between quarters, Hanford was pushed back. One of Fresno't attempts at a forward pass was intercepted by Hanford. They were forced to attempt to kick from behind their goal line. Their kicker fumbled, and Petersen fell on the ball. "Pete" then converted goal after touchdown and the score stood 17 to 0.

Second Half.

Neither side was able to score in the second half except for a touchback, which resulted in two points for Fresno. Fresno once came within six inches of the line, but were held back by the Hanfordites.

Hanford opened up with an aerial attack in this half which resulted in large gains.

"Pete" Petersen, tackle, was the hero of the day with his touchdown, goal kicking, and goal from placement.

Tommy Wright, halfback shared honors with "Pete" making one touchdown and running around end for long gains.

Al Serpa, quarter, caught some pretty passes through center, and used good headwork calling plays.

Captain Roy Niswander, full, was good on both line plunges, runs and punts. "Gotto" Emerzian, half-back, made good on end runs and kicking also.

Moore and Smith, ends, played good games, Smith getting some hard tackles.

Hayes, tackle, Newman and Stanley, guards, and Hastings, center, were strong on both defense and offense. Hastings intercepted Hanford's passes "with—

Uhler, who went in at Moore's end, caught a pass from Niswander that netted twenty yards.

Subs who went in were Marshall, full, Costes, full, Reynolds, end, Johnson, guard, and Aten, half, all showed good form and promise to become excellent in their positions.

Kelly Hanford's Star.

Kelly was Hanford's outstanding star, going through on line plunges, end runs, and passing the ball well. The lineup:

Says Girls Cannot Conceal Deception

"I can always tell when the girls lie," says Agnes Serpa, "but the boys—not always." Which is decidedly encouraging to boys with doubtful alarm clocks but exceedingly inconvenient to young ladies with tendencies toward tardiness.

Miss Serpa is about the busiest person in the school for fifteen minutes after 8:45 o'clock. Her job requires a snap judgment and a calm judicial eye. She has both and uses them amazingly well in separating the goats from the sheep in the crowd that daily throngs the ante room of the vice principal's office.

It is a disgrace to the record of this school that a few students can assume a countenance innocent enough to deceive her. Only the truth seems to get by but this—alas—usually results in about twenty minutes detention.

New Faces at Technical High

Thirty Here For First Time

Thirty teachers who are new to the Fresno schools have been placed on the Fresno Technical school faculty. Sixty instructors are required because of the large enrollment. A great many of the teachers were transferred from other Fresno schools to the technical, but even then out of town teachers were needed.

Miss Elma Moody, a part time teacher, received the A. B. degree at University of California.

Miss Lillie Morris, former teacher in Lefarrais, Paris, and a graduate of the University of Paris and of the Urserilline Institute, Italy, holds the Degree of Estrangers and Certificate Superieur, is a teacher in the French department.

Miss Nellie Bartlett, teachers of mathematics and Latin, is a graduate of the University of California.

Miss Elsie Daty of the Spanish department is a graduate of Stanford and holds the M. A. degree.

Miss Lillian Bean, formerly principal of the Decatur high school, graduated from the University of Illinois and received the M. A. degree from that institution.

Miss Helen White was principal of the Mendota elementary school previous to coming to Fresno. She is teaching arithmetic at the technical school.

E. E. Giggnm, a teacher in the machine shop, comes from Michigan normal school, where he taught mechanical drawing.

Miss Fanny Ludeke, formerly connected with the Coalinga intermediate schools and teacher of mathematics, received the degree of B. S. at U. C.

Miss Louise Pfister, teacher of civics, received the degree of A. B. at U. C.

Miss Elma Rourke, formerly with Hanford rural, is teaching general science.

Mrs. Lita Puckett, general science teacher, comes to Fresno from the Eureka High school and Junior college, where she was head of the science department.

Miss Louise Scott comes from Horace Mann Teachers' college, where she taught art.

Miss Florence Rosendahl, in the domestic science department, comes from Clovis High school.

William H. Sorenson comes from Gladurn, Mich., as an instructor in history.

Miss Mary Rieman, P. E. director, comes from the Fresno normal.

Miss Grace Montgomery, a former private school teacher, is teaching cooking. She holds the B. S. degree from Colorado State Agricultural college.

SENIOR CLASS HOLDS RALLY

Enthusiastic Speeches Are Made

The senior class held a football rally on Thursday in study B.

President McKnight called the meeting to order. The class business was dispensed with as quickly as possible and the rally was opened with football speeches and school yells.

Leland S. Martin, a new teacher of the faculty and one of the sponsors of the class, gave a lurging speech concerning spirit in athletics with such punch as has seldom been displayed by fodate faculty members. He positively radiated vim and vigor and inspired the students to such an extent that the study hall resounded with their yells.

Mitchell P. Briggs, also a sponsor of the senior class, was the next to speak and offered a brilliant suggestion that a committee be appointed to plan some means, either by a tax system or otherwise, by which the seniors could get a larger representation at the football games.

Walter Hepner, the boys vice-principal then appeared, and not to be outdone by previous speakers, gave a speech full of pep and jazz. He praised the students for their fine support in the Fowler football game and stated that he hoped the same enthusiasm would be apparent in following games.

Football boys were then called upon for speeches after which the class meeting was adjourned with the dear old Rah Rah song.

NEW STADIUM NOW PLANNED

To Increase Interest in Athletics

The stadium, to be built adjoining the campus of the State university at Berkeley, is of interest to all citizens of California in that it will serve as an enduring tribute to all citizens of the state who gave their lives during the world war, as well as serving as a constant incentive to the youth throughout the state to develop in the highest degree those physical and mental attributes which make for good citizenship.

A limited block of 10,000 units of two seats each at California-Stanford football contests is now on sale as a speedy means of providing for the immediate construction of the stadium. Reports received at Berkeley from all sections of California show that there is a great demand for the limited allotments of seat units.

The building of the stadium, a statement issued by the stadium executive committee explains, will increase interest in athletic games of all kinds throughout California, in that it will give to the general public, as well as to students and alumni of the university, a chance to witness the championship contests. The stadium, in addition, will provide badly needed space for the recreational activities of women students. The stadium will be supplemented eventually by a gymnasium and great memorial gateway and an armory, which will stand on a large memorial field on the west end of the campus at Berkeley, and on the adjoining property to the south.

California's memorial stadium will have a seating capacity of 60,000. It will be built after the plans followed in constructing the great Roman Coliseum. Architectural beauty will be given to the structure by the inclusion of alcoves, balconies and winding stairways. The stadium executive committee announces that it will be, when finished, the most beautiful structure of its kind in America. It will be built during 1921-1922.

Wonderful Voices Are Discovered At Rally of Juniors

The new school is well built, but several very apparent cracks were found in study C last Thursday morning, after the junior class had left the hall. According to the officers of the class, the reason is set forth as follows: The pressure exerted by 450 members of the class during the yelling was too much for the sturdily built walls.

M. D. Hawkins, Z. S. Leymel and Miss Laura Falk were the main speakers. W. H. Hepner, vice-principal, wandered in with a "big story." He became so enthused with the spirit of the class that he promptly forgot his story and had to tell a "little one." The rally was the most successful ever held by the junior class. President Baldwin presided. Yell Leader Fletcher did his duty in a wonderful manner. It was some rally!

Pumpkins, Ghosts At Portia Party Maybe Spirits?

A vision appears to us! There are haunting spirits walking around. They ask for the password and we unhesitatingly answer "Portia." At the sound of that magic word a door is opened and we enter into a room of delights and merriment. There we are confronted by ghosts of the past, large-eyed jack o' lanterns and beautiful damsels. The latter are the most popular. Will it be a grand success? Ask the Portias!

At the regular meeting of the society, Friday evening, October 7, it was decided that the Portias should have a Hallowe'en party, and, since the girls are possessed of the F. H. S. spirit, they promptly decided that they would celebrate the occasion. The big doin's are to be held in the library and all who attend are assured a good time.

Explains Teaching of Mathematics

In an article, "The Dream Come True," in the October issue of the magazine, "The School of Science and Math," W. A. Austin, head of the mathematics department gave the methods used in teaching Math. in F. H. S. The article gives an explanation of the type of manuals used and the system that is in use in F. H. S. at the present time.

Pictures of students at work are used to illustrate the article.

Mr. Austin states that although the article has only been out for two weeks he has received over fifty letters, many of which are from college professors and high school teachers asking for explanations of the methods and copies of work.

The new method perfected by Mr. Austin is in use in many schools at the present time and is very successful.

SPECIAL ENGLISH CLASSES

People who have trouble with the English language are finding Miss Ida Bernard's class for this purpose a great help to them. A special class under H. E. Kramer has also been organized for those who are weak in grammar and oral work. Kate Marks and H. W. Peters have charge of the practical English course. All who need work along these lines are urged to sign up for them at once.

EDITORIAL

Webster, that famous man of words, defines "fellowship" as "a joint interest and "good" as "something having excellent qualities." We take "good-fellowship," then, to mean "a joint interest of excellent qualities." There is no better place in the world to carry on the good-fellowship idea than in our school life. Cooperation, school spirit and an interest in our work are all branches of good-fellowship. You say we have cooperation, we have school spirit, and we do take interest in our school work. Yes, we have, but we haven't enough. No school has ever existed that had all the school spirit it could use. We're progressing, it's true, and remember, we want to reach the top of the ladder. Let's make "Good-fellowship" our motto this year and let the other schools know who we are.

Speedy Students Kiss the Dollars Farewell Forever

Beware, Ye Hounds of the Dusty Trail:

Be sure as ye speed or lose your kale;

For you will pay ere the term goes by,

For cops are cruel, and you need not sigh—

"Stop!

"Ten o'clock tomorrow morning. Thirty-five an hour too fast."

No, it's not a thrilling experience. Ten dollar bills do not grow on the shrubbery that surrounds the high school, and they certainly do not float around in the air.

The knights of the motorcycle have been wearing rubber from their tires lately, and very few of the speed demons have been overlooked. The majority have paid full toll, and the lucky ones, that have escaped know what to expect. Really, it doesn't pay, yuh know!

Art Classes Busy Making Posters

The art classes, under Miss Wasson, are very busy making posters. They made posters for fire prevention week, which began Oct. 10. The best posters are to be given a prize by the board of education. Posters are being made to help the old clothes drive, conducted by the Girls' League, and also for the San Bernadino Orange Show, Oct. 24. The girls of Miss Wasson's class are designing costumes for "Masque of the Two Strangers," by Lady Alix Egerton, a play which will be staged by Mr. Cooper's class as soon as the auditorium is ready for use. Miss Barnard says, "Boys of the perspective drawing class realize the importance of taking that course in order to become successful students of Engineering." The course is partly free hand drawing and partly mechanical.

Agoras Campaign For New Members

A meeting of the Fresno high school Agoras was held Friday night at 7:30 in the new high school building. A campaign for members has been launched and visitors are welcome at all times. The organization has promises of a flourishing year ahead. The following program was held:

Debate; Resolved: That Prohibition has been a great benefit to the U. S. Affirmative, D. Young and L. Kennedy; Negative, W. Bonnett and C. Emery. Speech by A. Williams on aviation; speech by L. Gregory on the Ku Klux Klan; speech by L. Dobson on selections from Creasey's Decisive Battles, and a reading by D. Brown. The program announced for next week is a speech by R. La Rue on the Life of Roosevelt; a speech by R. Pletcher on Methods of U. S. shipping Board; a speech by R. Baldwin on the Romance of Names, a speech by J. Homsey on the Evolution Theory; a speech by A. Randoll on Flying Circus; a speech by V. Weber on Fires and Firefighters; a speech by John Humsey on Selections from the Americanization of Edward Bok.

Making Pace Scales In Officer's School

The members of the officers' school have been getting into shape for future hikes by walking two miles a day during the last week. The reason for this display of pep is that they are making pace scales based on the number of inches they cover in making a step or pace. These pace scales are to be used in making maps in the future instead of using rulers.

The class is at present working on map reading and will take up map sketching in the near future.

Interesting Debate Held By Hypatias

The Hypatias held a very interesting debate at their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon. The subject was: Resolved that all games should be held during school hours. The affirmative was upheld by Thelma Collins and the negative by Zell Parker. The negative winning the debate. Lucille Fornes gave a humorous reading, after which the yell leader, Zella Parker lead some yells. Harriet Langston was elected commissioner of debating. Ruth Akey took the oath of office.

LEARN YOUR SONGS AND YELLS

Copies of the school songs and yells were distributed at the sophomore rally Thursday to familiarize the new students with the cheers and ballads of the school. Mr. Rohrer, sponsor of the class, addressed the meeting on the art of yelling, and the cheers following showed great enthusiasm. Before the adjournment Clyde Emery, candidate for commissioner of business, addressed the assembly.

STUDENTS WIN STOCK PRIZES

Agricultural Classes Are Good Judges

Eight out of the nine prizes given in the stock judging contests of the recent district fair were awarded to students of Fresno high, trained in the agriculture department of this school.

The annual contests are open to students of any school in the valley and the merit of the various contestants is judged, 40 per cent by the correctness of the rating they give to the cattle inspected and 60 per cent by their written reasons for this rating. The contests are in three divisions, judgements of beef cattle, dairy cattle and hogs, with separate prizes for each division. The first prize is $7, second $5 and third $4.

Fresno high school boys winning honors were as follows: Beef cattle division—First, John Chambers; second, Charles Norton, third, Ed Wright. Judging of dairy cattle—First, Fred Mosier; second, John Chambers; third, Jacob Andresen. Hog division—Second, Earl Babcock; third, Philip Houghton. The first prize of this latter division was awarded to Lewis Jolly, a Riverdale boy.

COMMITTEES OF CADETS NAMED

Technical School To Have Company

The following committees were appointed by Vice Pres. Tucker of the Cadet Rifle club:

Committee to inform Capt. Bonsi, Co. 152, of his election as president of the club: 1—Archer Garner, Co. 152. 2—Earl Young, Co. 152. 3—Paul Walker, staff.

Committee to decorate the Cadet club room: 1—James Collins, staff. 2—Henry Newman, staff. 3—Wm. Converse, staff.

The following committee was appointed to work up a point system for the regiment: 1—Major Dobson. 2—Major Schroeder. 3—Company commanders. 4—1st Lieutenants.

Five Cadet pictures are decorating the club rooms at present and more are being mounted daily. Flags are also being hung in appropriate places and many other adornments are on the way.

Rifles have been issued to the companies and are being cleaned. The rifles in Co. 152 and 153 have been inspected and the rifle racks have been painted.

Owing to the increase in inlistments in Co. 34 at the technical school a new company is being organized. It will probably be known as Co. 66. The commandant expects to have three full companies of cadets at the Technical school by the end of this semester.

Agora and Senate Plan Mock Trial

A mock trial is to be given by the two boys' debating societies, Agora and Senate, November 4, at 7:30 in the dramatics room. The Senate had the right of choosing the defendant and the lawyers to defend him while the Agora chooses the witnesses and the prosecuting attorneys. Hilary Raybourne was chosen as the prisoner by the Senate and he is charged with bigamy. Laurence Peters and Galen McKnight are to defend him. The Agora is keeping the identity of the witnesses a secret. Judge Beamont has been asked to be judge for the evening and render his decision on the case. The members of both societies are looking forward to the trial as being one of the best events of the year.

An interesting program was given at the Agora, Friday night. A debate was given on the question "Resolved, that prohibitionism has been of a great benefit to the United States." The affirmative was upheld by Donald Young and Lawrence Kennedy. The negative was given by Wayne Bonnett and Clyde Emery. No decision was given, however, because one of the debaters had to speak extemporaniously when he took the place of one of the scheduled debaters who was absent. Donald Brown gave a reading; Alton Williams spoke on aviation; Thomas Gregory talked on the Ku Klux Klan and Leonard Dobson told of the battle of Waterloo.

A senior night is to be given by the Agora in the near future. On this night every Senior is to bring a Sophomore or Junior to take his place in the Agora which he graduates.

Fay Stoddart was elected into active membership.

Girls' League Plans Old Clothes Drive

Wouldn't it be awful if you couldn't have a new dress every once in a while? Worse still, wouldn't it be terrible if you didn't have any clothes that were whole and sufficient to keep you warm? It is hard to realize that people do get in that situation, but we must realize it. In some countries people are so destitute that there is not enough food; also there is only one article of clothing to each person. Conditions such as these must be remedied and the Girls' League has taken the first step.

Monday, October 17, an old clothes drive will be launched to relieve the suffering. Won't you help lift a little of their terrible burden and bring some of your old clothes as soon as the drive starts?

McKnight Elected Senate President

McKnight of Iowa, a loyal member of the high school senate for over three years, was unanimously elected president of that organization at its meeting Friday evening. Other officers elected were as follows: vice-president, Nowell of Massachusetts; secretary, Morrison of New Jersey; treasurer, Fluhr of West Virginia; auditor, Heflin of Arizona; librarian, Borrel of Michigan, and sargeant-at-Arms, Raybourne of Maryland.

The order of the day consisted of a debate on the question Resolved, That the United States should lend in disarmament, the affirmative being upheld by Fluhr of West Virginia and Heflin of Arizona, the negative by Peters of Mississippi and Pollard of Louisiana. The negative won by a vote of two to one. A yea and nay vote on the question, of the personal opinion of the members present, revealed that four believed the United States should take the action defined

SCHOOLS AID STADIUM DRIVE

Giant Memorial To All Who Died In War

The stadium committee of the University of California is making an appeal to all the schools of the state to aid them in collecting funds for the erection of a monument to the boys who died in France. The stadium is to be the largest of its kind in the world, and is to be erected in the near future. Patterned after the Roman coliseum, it will stand as one of the architectural beauties of the United States. The stadium will seat 60,000 persons.

Hepner Organizes Discussion Groups

Walter Hepner, boys vice-principal, has organized five discussion groups for juniors and seniors only. There are twenty boys in each group, which meets during a study period one day a week for ten weeks. The course is taken voluntarily, no credit being given.

The purpose is to have informal discussion on the subjects of most interest to the boys of the high school, and to teach them to think their way clearly through difficult situations. Mr. Hepner hopes to have the boys think for themselves and to do it well. They are to study and discuss the relationship of the future to their present actions, elementary philosophy, psychology and ethics.

Division 1 will meet the second period Monday; division 2, the fourth period Wednesday; division 3, the fifth period Tuesday; division 4, the seventh period Thursday; division 5, the eighth period Friday. The first meeting will be held this week, the time to be announced later.

Changes Beneficial Says Science Head

"We accomplish twice the work that we used to in the old building," was the statement of S. A. Owen, head of the science department. Several of the new changes in teaching for this department proved a success, according to the instructors of biology, physics, chemistry, electricity and other laboratory subjects. Each teacher has his own laboratory room and apparatus to perform all experiments, and the two period plan for these subjects has become very popular and practical one among the teachers and students of the science department.

Farm Students Need Buildings For Work

"The number of farming students in Fresno high and the technical school totals 130 and the department is the largest of its nature in the state, with possibly one exception," declared Arthur A. Sorenson, head of the agricultural department here. "If this department were provided with the building that it expects in the future and suitable hot-houses for the study of plant growth, I have no doubt that it would be unexcelled in the state. The number of students enrolled in this division has grown from seven to nearly two hundred in ten years, and if the needed facilities were given us even that number would leap amazingly."

Mr. Sorenson, who, in addition to the position he holds in Fresno high, is supervisor of the annual agricultural contests, wishes to call attention to the fact that this is the first year Riverdale has competed and, that much is expected of it in the future. He also desires to mention John Chambers for the excellence of his work in the contest.

Commercial Classes Progressing Rapidly

J. F. Bowers, head of the commercial department, stated that fine progress was being made in spite of the fact that students did not have proper working facilities.

The students in bookkeeping are handicapped because of poor seating. In one room typewriter boxes, with 2x8-inch planks between serve as seats, while in another room cafeteria tables serve as desks.

The typing classes are doing very fine work and are practicing for speed in order to be ready for the speed contest to be held this winter.

20th Century Club Plans Big Program

At the regular meeting of the Twentieth Century club last Monday afternoon, it was announced that a special rally program would be given at the next meeting. Arrangements are being made to secure outside speakers. All members are requested to attend as this program is to be one of the best the club has ever given.

The Charm of Snow-white Linen

---Is Assured if You Use the Big White Bar of Better Soap

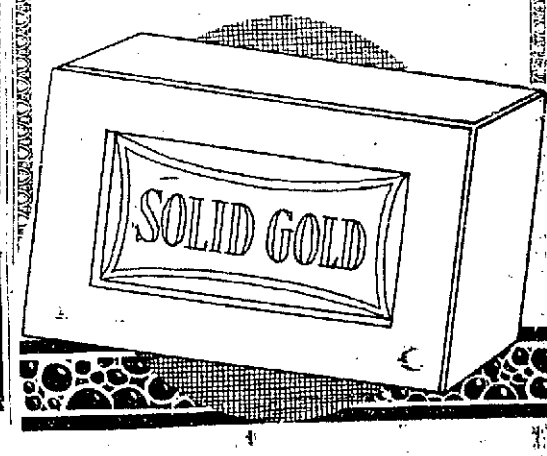

SOLID GOLD is a fresh, pure white soap. It is fresh because it is made right here in Fresno and goes direct from our new factory to the dealers' shelves. Being fresh, none of the active, dirt-loosening ingredients has evaporated—it dissolves and acts quickly to make the dirt let go.

Hard-on-Dirt Easy-on-Hands

And, in addition, Solid Gold is very economical. The big white bar contains 25 per cent more soap than other bars—at the same old price. Its better cleansing properties make it wash cleaner and go farther.

Your grocer has it—ask him, next time, for the big white bar—SOLID GOLD.

ROBBERS ENTER SERVICE PLANT

Kingsburg Station Is Looted Yesterday

KINGSBURG, Oct. 16.—At 2 o'clock this morning the C. H. Briggs service station on the state highway entering Kingsburg, was burglarized by unknown culprits, and many articles of value stolen. P. G. Lawson discovered the loss when he assumed duties early this morning, and reported to George Boyle, who immediately started an investigation of the case.

After several hours of investigation Boyle discovered where the loot had been taken, and found traces of empty cracker boxes, soda bottles and cookies. He concluded that the place was entered by criminal tramps. A case of chewing tobacco, a box of cigars, three dozen cookies, milk bottles and several boxes of cigarettes were missing. After breaking a window the burglar had reached the latch and opened the door. The door to the service station was also broken, but no entry was effected. Many cases of this character are being reported here.

KINGSBURG FARM BUREAU TO MEET

Illegal Raisin Sales Are Protested

KINGSBURG, Oct. 16.—The Raisin Growers farm bureau will hold a special meeting at the local high school Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. W. H. Cramling is president and Charley Schaffer is secretary. Charles A. Murdoch, secretary of the California Associated Raisin company, will be the principal speaker, and the object of the meeting will be to further the interests of the association in protection against members who are selling raisins to outside packers.

The Kingsburg branch of the Sun Maid Square Deal club has lost no time in getting busy in its effort to curb the unlawful sales. There will be a large representation from the business interests and the rural districts. The importance of the meeting is quite evident, say leaders, for the reason that a division of association interests will weaken the solidity that has been so well established.

SELMA DOWNS DINUBA BY 20 TO 7 IN HARD FOUGHT GRID BATTLE

Dinuba Scores When Tout Intercepts Forward Pass and Breaks Loose for 45 Yards And a Touchdown

SELMA, Oct. 16.—Running true to form, the grid battle today on Selma Legion grounds before a large sized crowd proved an interesting and close contest, Selma winning the game by the score of 20 to 7, Bert Edsall carrying the ball over Dinuba's goal line in the first period and later converting the goal.

Shortly after the start of the second period, Benny Tout, right halfback for Dinuba and one of the swiftest and best players in the valley, intercepted a forward pass and ran 45 yards for Dinuba's only touchdown, Nuss converting the goal. In the third quarter, Roy Gordon, playing right end for Selma, was on the receiving end of three beautifully executed forward passes, Franklin to Gordon, the last one being over Dinuba's goal line, resulting in a touchdown.

While Dinuba players were making an uncalled-for argument with the officials, a misunderstanding of officials' whistles resulted in Edsall converting a goal, which later was not allowed, Dinuba claiming that the goal was kicked before Referee Church had given the signal, and Captain Sells of the Selma team, in a sportsmanlike manner, believing that the one point would not lose the game and to prevent any further controversy, asked that the decision stand. Referee Church of Hanford and Umpire Blewitt of Fresno were agreed that Dinuba had no cause for objecting to the play over the goal line that resulted in the touchdown, and rather than listen to Dinuba's continued argument, Blewitt retired, and Coach Bullock of Reedley team took his place as umpire. Score at end of first half, Selma 13, Dinuba 7.

The third period resulted in a punting duel, with Arrants of Selma outkicking Nuss of Dinuba by about fifteen to twenty yards on each exchange-of-punts. Score at end of third period, Selma 13, Dinuba 7.

In the fourth period Selma carried the ball to Dinuba's three-yard line, but lost the ball on downs, when Dinuba kicked to Arrants, who returned the ball to Dinuba's 20-yard line, when Art Jones made first down on an off tackle play, and with consecutive line plunging by Arrants, Jones, Hartley and Edsall, Hartley went over for the final touchdown of the game, Edsall kicking goal. Final score, Selma 20, Dinuba 7.

Tout, E. Gregory, Lewis, Beaty, W. Gregory, Snow and Hiatt did the backfield and end work for the visitors, and while they were unable to gain through Selma's line, completed several short forward passes, but were never inside Selma's 15-yard line at any time during the game, except when Benny Tout made 45 yards for a touchdown on an intercepted forward pass.

Selma's team was badly crippled and substitutions were frequent during the game, Elmer Paul, Roy Gordon, Captain Sells, Franklin, Edsall, Arrants, Jones and Hartley carrying the ball for Selma, while Selma's line held like a stone wall, and opened up holes in Dinuba's line. Sanford for Dinuba did excellent work when the play went through on his side.

Substitutes for Dinuba—Hobday for Thompson, Lewis for Hiatt, Beaty for W. Gregory, Edmonson for Muncey. Substitutes for Selma—Roy Gordon for Elmer Paul, Hanna for Hobson, Art Jones for Hartley, Craven for Jones.

Officials—Referee, Church of Hanford; umpire, Blewitt of Fresno, first half, Bullock of Reedley second half; head linesman, Sullivan of Selma.

THE GUMPS—BACKYARD SCANDAL.

LANDIS' ORDERS DISREGARDED BY HOME RUN KING

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Disregarding orders of Judge Landis, national baseball commissioner, Babe Ruth, home run star of the New York Yankees, today took part in an exhibition game against the Polish Nationals of Buffalo.

Ruth's team won 4 to 2, and he made one home run.

"I still think I am in the right and Judge Landis is wrong," said Ruth: "He had no right to bar us from participating in a post-season exhibition game. We think our action was for the best interests of baseball."

Zuppke's hopes to develop a good ground gaining eleven for Illinois, without a dependable booter, have failed despite the work of these stars

Three of Zuppke's stars, Captain Kalquist, quarter and half at the left. Above, at the right, Halfback Kaiser, and below, Tackle Vogel. With several dependable veterans and a wealth of green material at his disposal, Zuppke had hoped to develope a winning eleven for Illinois this year despite the fact that he lacked a dependable punter and drop kicker. However, Saturday's defeat at the hands of Iowa State, when the Urbana eleven was trounced to the tune of 14 to 2 practically put Illinois out of the running in the Western Conference.

EXETER ELEVEN WINS 61 TO 0 FROM REEDLEY

Griggs Shows Up as Star Kicker

EXETER, Oct. 16.—About a thousand football fans saw the Reedley legion team go down to defeat today before the strong Exeter eleven, winners of the state championship of 1920, by a 61 to 0 score. Exeter's excellent team work showed up all through the game, long forward passes being made time after time, only one not being complete.

At no time during the game was the Reedley team dangerous and it seemed impossible for them to gain any ground. Exeter put in most of her substitutes in the second and third quarters working out all the men who were in uniforms.

Griggs' kicking foot showed up to advantage. He converted all but one goal, making seven goals in all. The game was played in ten minute quarters, this being agreed upon before the game started.

DELANO ELEVEN IS AN EASY VICTIM

LITTLE OPPOSITION IN THIRD GAME

CROSS OPPOSING LINE NINE TIMES

Fresno Legion players easily defeated the much talked of Delano eleven yesterday afternoon, romping away with the game by a score of 59 to 0. During the one hour of play Fresno players carried the pigskin across the opposing goal line nine times, but failed to kick the goal on four occasions.

Fresno started the game as the aggressor and maintained this position throughout, even during the last two quarters, when the legion second string men went into the game. Delano was outweighed by the local eleven, and only made feeble attempts to become the aggressor.

In the first quarter Hunloh went over for Fresno's first score, following a long gain on an end run. Cline scored later on in the same quarter, taking the ball over when the Fresno offense opened up a big hole in the center of the Delano line. Fresno was successful in kicking both goals, making the score 14 to 0.

In the second period of play, Oliver crossed the opposing goal line after grabbing a 25-yard forward pass out of the air. Stanley Ryan followed Oliver's example a few minutes later in the game and went over following a forward pass. Neither goal was kicked, leaving the score 26 to 0.

When the players went back on the field for the second half it was apparent that the Delano team could not withstand the attacks of the Fresno eleven, even though Coach Leymel had sent in most of his reserve men at this stage of the game. After the first five minutes the game settled down to a straight line-bucking contest, with the Fresno second string men tearing holes in the Delano line almost at will.

Davis and Kelly both carried the ball across the goal line for touchdowns in the third quarter, increasing the score to 38 to 0.

Dark Horse Newman went into the game at fullback at the beginning of the fourth quarter and carried the ball across the Delano line three times in the last 15 minutes of play. Two of these touchdowns were made as the result of line-bucking tactics, while the third came after several successful forward passes.

Cline, at fullback, who had formerly played on the line for Fresno, did some excellent work in today's game, showing real backfield ability in finding holes and carrying the ball through the defense. Wright was another local player who showed up as a player of stellar caliber during the game.

HANFORD KINGS TAKE LEAD IN VALLEY SERIES

Muller Hits Keating For Three Long Ones

MADERA, Oct. 16.—Hanford Kings went into the lead today in the Valley League post season series, taking the third game from the Madera Coyotes by a score of seven to four. Most of the game was slow and listless but was livened up on three occasions when Becker, Schiltz and Muller knocked the ball out of the lot for home runs.

Muller, third baseman on the Hanford nine, came into the limelight as the slugger of the two teams when he hammered Keating's delivery for a home run, a three bagger and a two base hit in four times at bat. Clare, the Kings' center fielder also came in for a two bagger.

Ralph Stroud on the mound for Hanford pitched the better game, allowing only seven hits to ten off Keating. The King's pitcher only passed three men to first base, while Keating allowed four walks, hit another, thereby passing five batters to first base.

The fourth game of the series will be played next Sunday on the Hanford diamond.

PLAN OPENING OF FAST SAN CARLOS SAUCER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—Elaborate arrangements for the official opening of the world's fastest speedway at San Carlos on Sunday, December 11, were formulated here today by officials of the Greater San Francisco Speedway association, backers of the project, which is to cost in excess of $400,000.

In order that everyone in attendance at the opening day race will know at all times the speed being maintained by the various drivers, their relative position in the race, the number of laps covered, etc., an electric score board in full view of the grandstands will be erected.

Ray Harroun one of the most famous of racing drivers and a winner at many of the more important events held several years ago, was a visitor at the speedway recently. Harroun declared after looking over the track, that it was not only the most modern track he had ever seen, but that everything pointed to it being the fastest track in the world.

Jack Prince, nationally known builder of famous speedways, has guaranteed a speed of 120 miles per hour, making it between eight and ten miles faster per hour than the track at Uniontown, Pa.; Tacoma, Fresno, Beverly Hills and Cotati.

The grandstands, with a seating capacity of 50,000, will be 1250 feet long. In a radius of 1,200 feet the track will have a 100 foot curve on the straightaway. There will be no shutdown coming in or out of the stretch. Full speed will be maintained by the drivers at all points on the track.

The approximate speed of the various tracks throughout the United States as as follows, miles per hour:

Tacoma, 100; Uniontown, 101; Fresno, 101; Beverly Hills, 108; Cotati, 110; Greater San Francisco speedway, 120.

The Greater San Francisco speedway has received the official indorsement of seven chambers of commerce, five peninsula clubs, the San Francisco board of supervisors, various local, transbay and interior civic organizations and several American Legion posts.

Preliminary speed trials will be held on December 1.

HART'S TAKE FIRST GAME IN WINTER LEAGUE

Feature Plays Add to Interest in Contest

Winter baseball was officially ushered into existence in Fresno yesterday afternoon when Hart's nine defeated the Shaddows by a score of 12 to 8 in their opening game of the season, played on Holmes playground diamond. A number of feature plays livened up the opening game which was of such a caliber as to allow the prediction that the winter league games would be all that the various managers have been claiming for their teams.

Hart's nine scored the first runs of the series in the second inning, when a single by Manager Jack coupled with an error by Hansen of the Shaddows put Sheppard and Cartwright across the plate. Hart's scored heavily again in the sixth, when their sluggers found the Shaddow hurler for five hits in a row. They scored four more runs in the following inning.

The Shaddows aggregation scored one run in the third inning, three in the sixth, when Ritchie got a homer with two men on bases, and two each in the seventh and eighth innings.

The Shaddows pulled a beautiful triple play in the first inning. Hemphill had singled and advanced to second when Jewett walked. McCann came to bat and hit a fast one, which Pitcher Johnson of the Shaddows knocked down. Bills at short stopped the ball, relaying it to Le Fevre at second, putting Jewett out. McCann was caught at first, and Hemphill was caught at home plate when he tried to stretch the play for a score.

The Shaddows did some clever work in the third, when McCann hit a fast one to Bills, who threw to Folsron on first and then caught Hemphill between first and second. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Shaddows	8	14	5
Harts	12	11	2

Riggons, Mackle and Bidwell did the hurling for Coffee's, while Ed Rolands did the receiving behind the bat.

IOWA ELEVEN IS PICKED TO WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The University of Iowa football eleven, as a result of Saturday's game, stands out as the team most likely to win the western conference football championship.

The Iowans, by a 14 to 2 victory over Illinois, won what is expected to be their only hard game.

Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio State—the latter again a championship contender through its unexpected victory over Minnesota—picked by many observers as the chief contestants of Iowa's title claims, meet each other in contests which are sure to eliminate two of them. Iowa meets none of them and thus is a championship possibility for the first time in years.

Dairy Payroll For Tulare Increased

TULARE, Oct. 16.—The payroll for the month of September to the dairymen of Tulare and vicinity is considerably larger than for August, according to figures secured from the four Tulare creameries. The total payroll was approximately $214,453.65, or an increase of almost $5000 over the payroll of last month, which was $210,468.45.

The increase is due partly to an increase of from one to two cents in the net price to the producer, and to the steady maintenance of the production level. According to local dairymen the prospects are good for a continued increase in the industry for the next three months.

Market conditions show a healthy growth during the past three months. In July the prices paid for cream ranged from 45 to 46 cents, while for the month just past the net prices to the producer without hauling charges was 51 cents.

Among guests yesterday were: Mr. and Mrs. F. Wittram, recently arrived from Barcelona, Spain, to inspect their olive grove here; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Adams, the former having returned from a trip to Alaska to locate oil claims, Judge Wallace and Judge Allen, and Attorneys McFadzean and Powers of Visalia.

Parade May Feature Armistice Day Fete

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 16.—The parade feature of the coming Armistice day celebration in Porterville, under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion, is expected to surpass anything of the kind ever attempted here. A number of business firms will be represented by floats, and practically every club, fraternal or other organization will have a place in the line of march.

Veterans of the Spanish-American war, of whom a number reside in Porterville and vicinity, have announced they will participate with World War veterans in making the day a success. They propose to enter a float on which is erected a Filipino bamboo house, typical of our far flung possession. At a recent meeting of the veterans the following committee was chosen to design the float: James Lindley, B. E. Skinner, Frank Angle and J. N. Shaney.

The local lodge of Knights of Pythias are planning an elaborate float, combined with an unusual feature that is to remain a mystery until the morning of the parade. The committee of arrangement is composed of Cleve Ferguson, R. Hodgson, E. W. Loyd, W. W. Brown and Roy Wymore.

WILL OBSERVE WELFARE DAY

Giffen Asks Support of Employes

Sun Maid Welfare league day, an annual event in the California Associated Raisin company, will be observed by the association today.

All members of the league will observe the event today by contributing one day's earnings to the welfare fund, with an equal amount of the employes' contributions being given by the company. According to I. R. Payne, advisory of the league board, the amount will total in the neighborhood of $30,000.

Following is a letter from Wylie M. Giffen to the Sun Maid Welfare league regarding the observance of today: "I am just reminded that the welfare league day is fast approaching, and I am writing this line to you and those associated with you in this work to express to you my appreciation of this work, and also to express the sincere hope that there is not an employe of the Associated Raisin company in any department who will not gladly contribute to this fund one day's salary.

"The more employes who do this, of course, makes the fund larger, but there is no money that we spend that I believe is a better investment than the money that we put into the welfare league, and it makes no difference how large the employes may make their share of this fund, we will be glad to contribute to it an equal amount."

The members of the executive board of the league are as follows: M. H. Pessaus, chairman; T. F. McKeighan, M. J. Reynolds, Al Klein, Ralph Mitchell and R. B. Thompson. I. R. Payne is advisor and G. V. Hamilton secretary of the league.

House Membership Will Remain Same

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Second failure of the House within a year to increase its membership beyond 435 virtually means there will be no addition according to the view expressed today by leaders of the fight to keep the number at its present total.

Peace Association Has Special Books

The local directors of the Industrial Peace association, of which Bishop Sanford is president, have arranged to have a special shelf of books reserved at the public library treating of approaches to the solution of difficulties between capital and labor. The arrangement was made through the courtesy of Miss Newcomet, the reference librarian.

The directors of the Industrial Peace association are now engaged in a study of the "Massachusetts Arbitration act" and the "Australian plan" for the solution of labor disputes.

It is the purpose of the local officers of the Industrial Peace association to stimulate public study of the various plans which have been put forward to solve labor difficulties in the hope of benefiting by the experience of other communities. It is their conviction that the industrial situation in Fresno is evenly balanced, and the various groups interested so well disposed toward one another, that all the elements necessary for the development of a program of permanent industrial peace can be obtained here.

TWO TONG MEN TO GO ON TRIAL

Charged With Killing Fowler Man

The trials of Wong Gim and Sing Hing, Bing Kong tong members who were indicted by the Fresno county grand jury for the murder of Ah Wah near Fowler on July 11, will begin today in department No. 2 of the superior court, Judge C. E. Beaumont will preside.

It is charged that the men murdered Wah in his shack on the A. A. Gatcomb ranch near Fowler on July 11. The men came to the shack unseen, it is stated, shot the aged man four times through the back, and then sped away in an automobile.

When the man was found, the sheriff's office was notified and officers were sent to the scene of the crime.

A wrecked automobile containing the two defendants was found in Armstrong avenue a few miles from the scene of the crime, it was stated. The officers claim that in the automobile were two revolvers containing exploded shells of the same caliber as those which were found in the body of the murdered man.

District Attorney B. W. Gearhart announced that he will ask the death penalty for the alleged murderers. Assisting him in the trials will be Assistant District Attorney H. J. Carling and Herbert McDowell, who has been retained by the family of the murdered man. The prosecuting attorneys have spent considerable time in working up their case against the defendants.
